New park to honor GC-Japan steel merger

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"As this tree grows and becomes stronger, so does the strength of Granite City grow," Souke Doi, executive vice president of National Steel Corp. and a director of Nippon Kokan K.K. steel company in Japan, commented as a symbolic tree was planted Tuesday morning at 21st Street and Lee Avenue, soon to be the site of a new community garden park, a gift from Kokan to Granite City.

A 20-foot Asian Ginkgo tree was planted on the former Granite City Steel parking lot which has not been used for several years. Numerous trees, including evergreens, will be planted and grass nurtured there in the near future until the park is completed.

PERHAPS MORE important than the start of the park was the event Tuesday's ceremony symbolized. The true start of the joint international operation of National Steel, of which Granite City Steel is a subsidiary.

On hand to mark the occasion, besides Doi, were Robert D. McBride, president of National Steel Corp., Yukio Tani, executive vice president of National Steel and a board member of Kokan; William D. Swanson, vice president and general manager of Granite City Steel, and others.

The tree planting ceremony followed a press conference in the Granite City Steel headquarters, at which McBride fielded questions about the future of National Steel and its Granite City subsidiary.

AT THAT conference, McBride expressed optimism for the future, both for the company and its employees.

us a competitive edge in the market-place," he stated.

As soon as visas are arranged, 13 Kokan employees are to become permanent employees of National Steel. The 13 were hand picked by Tani for their technical and administrative expertise and will work closely with National people at the three steel plants to improve productivity and the quality of the product, McBride said.

Tani will spend two weeks in Granite City, starting next Monday, heading a team studying the operations at the blast furnace and loading floor, "to evaluate overall operations," it was announced.

KOKAN technology already is being used in designing and building a new electro-galvanizing line at Detroit, a $90 million investment. Both American and Japanese ideas were used in the design, McBride said, "to put the first full electro-galvanizing line in the nation on stream and produce the best galvanized product nationally."

Kokan already has three such galvanizing lines in operation in Japan, but their configurations would not exactly meet the needs of the U.S. automotive industry, which is to use more galvanized steel in autos in the 1987 model year to resist rusting. National Steel is attempting to complete its galvanized line in Detroit in time to serve this market, starting late in 1986.

Combining the Japanese technology and "American know-how," McBride said, the new process "is probably the best of both worlds. That is what we are looking for, the best of both worlds. As a matter of fact, that will be our theme—to form the first world-class steel industry in this country."

HE PREDICTED a brighter future for National Steel employees, due to the merger and the withdrawal of National from the steel coordinating committee, which negotiates joint agreements for all major steelmakers. "In the long run, it will be a win-win situation for both the management of the company and the employees if we negotiate our contracts on our own. Nippon Kokan has been a leader in this. Our goal is a better workplace and more security for employees," McBride contended.

Doi explained that National Steel and Kokan have had "a long time relationship which has been very successful. We know one another well. We also know National as a company that is dedicated to the welfare of its employees. National is forming a unique partnership between labor and management to work together to solve the problems jointly in a participative manner.

"National also is deeply involved in the communities in which their employees work and live," Doi added.

Barton, three others plead innocent

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Responding to an 18-count indictment—alleging a conspiracy to alter assessments through bribery—four men pleaded innocent Monday before Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill. Trial dates have not been set.

The defendants are James W. Barton, Granite City, who will not be reappointed upon completing his third four-year term as Madison County supervisor of assessments; Fred Finck, Godfrey, a member of the assessment Board of Review; Merle Bassett, a Wood River attorney; and the latter's son, Gerald Bassett, a law student who is a former aide to Barton.

A SINGLE HEARING was conducted at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville. O'Neill allowed 21 days in which to provide evidence and information before a trial is scheduled.

The indictment was issued Sept. 21, and Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said Sept. 26 that Barton will not be reappointed.

Some board members have suggested that Barton take a leave of absence for the rest of this year, but Barton has indicated he will remain active until Dec. 31.

JUDGE O'NEILL ordered that law enforcement agencies working with the case, including the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation, not destroy any of the notes they utilized to compile investigative reports.

J. William Lucio, Barton's attorney, said the DCI destroyed notes linked to its reports in a previous Barton inquiry, and the court order was sought to avoid a similar occurrence.

Special Prosecutor Bruce Locher, Springfield, who was named in May to conduct the assessment investigation, said court rules require only that the reports themselves be produced for a trial.

IF THE PROSECUTION believes some of the notes are not subject to legal discovery and perusal by the defense, O'Neill responded, it can ask the judge to view the material.

O'Neill or some other judge would then decide which notes could be included as part of the evidence and which could not. The judge who will conduct the trial has not yet been assigned.

Lucio said it was disclosed during hearings on a 1982 indictment that DCI agents routinely destroy their handwritten notes from interviews with suspects and witnesses. He took the position that such supporting notes could be important to the defense.

THE DEFENDANTS remain free on $10,000 recognizance bonds.

Although board members have welcomed Hagnauer's decision not to reappoint Barton, many have praised Barton for upgrading county assessment records, hiring a qualified staff, and consistently obtaining a non-multiplier when the state reviewed Madison County property values.

Plea for lottery cut is considered

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Granite City Alderman Casmer Skubish told city council members Tuesday night that a city resolution, which seeks a cut of the Illinois lottery sales, was "well accepted" by members of the Illinois Municipal League (IML) resolution committee.

The resolution, was introduced at the IML convention last weekend by Skubish, who was representing the city. The resolution asks that cities be given a percentage of the lottery profits for extra police protection and other city services which are necessary due to increasing demand of lottery tickets.

SKUBISH SAID there are 53 members on the IML resolution committee. These members are mayors, village board presidents and aldermen of various municipalities within Illinois.

"No one challenged the resolution," Skubish said. "I was kind of surprised that no one did, but I guess the committee wanted to review it before it was discussed."

Skubish said the only comment made about the resolution came from the mayor of a municipality

EPA Superfund designation for lead pile appears likely

By SUSANNE INDELCATO
of the Press-Record

The National Lead Industries—Taracorp Lead Smelter in Granite City is one of 244 new sites in the nation proposed Tuesday by the Environmental Protection Agency for inclusion in the Superfund National Priorities List.

Jim Frank, Superfund Section manager of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, said the IEPA proposed that the site be included on the U.S. EPA list, and "we expect it to be on the list when it's published in final form." He expects the final list to be released sometime next week.

SHOULD THE site be included on the final Superfund list, Frank explained, the IEPA will be granted access to federal funds to investigate the site and determine the degree and nature of contamination on the site.

In addition, the IEPA would have access to federal monies to clean up the site, should the owners refuse or be unable to pay for the disposal of waste from the site.

Frank says the IEPA is currently negotiating with the owners and (Continued on Page 7)

Members of the Old Six Mile Historical Society stand on the porch of the Reed Zippel home, 3279 Maryville Road, recently purchased by the group to be used as a museum of Granite City history. Originally built in 1837 by William Emmert, after whom the avenue nearby is named, it was purchased by the Zippel family during the 1890s. Left to right in the front row are Elmer Stille, chairman of the building committee, Georgia Engelke, president, and Marguerite Lexow, vice president. Back row, left to right, are Francis Hawk, Udell Bischoff, Mary Jesse, Elsie Hawk, Marguerite Barker, Loraine Bischoff, Leonard Davis, Wilbert Engelke and Ron Coleman.

Activities back park, school bonds

Activities to fund promotional efforts for the Nov. 6 referendum for the Granite City School District and for a new park swimming pool are underway here. Since tax money may not be used to fund promotion of the referendums, private funds and volunteer help are being sought.

The school district is hosting a fund raising brunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at Charlie's Restaurant. A $15 per plate donation is requested to help fund the referendums for a $6.6 million working cash fund, and an additional 40-cent tax rate for the education fund. Tickets to the brunch will be available at the door.

Venice schools adopt budget

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

Prior to last week's regularly scheduled meeting, the Venice School Board conducted a public hearing presenting the proposal and ultimately adopted 1985 budget. Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers assured the board that there had not been any changes made within the previously posted tentative budget.

This year's budget indicates total allocations of $1,924,355 for educational funds; $38,125 for bond and interest funds; $417,190 for building and maintenance funds; $66,598 for transportation funds; $40,746 for municipal retirement funds and $6,500 for working cash funds.

At the board's regularly-scheduled meeting, a resolution adopting an estimated annual tax levy was approved. This year's tax levy (the amount to be raised by taxation next summer) totaled $567,500. This amount is $14,500 less than last year's.

On recommendation from Vickers, the board hired Betty Harmon, a past Granite City High School librarian, to work part-time at Venice High School.

Additional action included transferring monies to repay obligations to some funds and to avoid anticipation warrants for other funds; establishing parent conference dates for Dec. 7 and March 8; purchasing sweaters for the high school cheerleaders and changing the board meeting days to the first and third Monday of each month beginning Oct. 15.

PURSE TAKEN FROM HALL

Rose Marczak of 2614 Denver St., told Madison police last week, that someone took her purse from Engelbert Hall, 1613 Sixth St., Madison. She said she had played bingo there that night and left, later realizing she did not take her purse. Taken were some credit cards, two pairs of sunglasses, $18 cash and some miscellaneous personal items.

Charge two men stopped in car

Seeing a vehicle allegedly without taillights and occupied by two men leave a parking lot at 12th Street and Edwardsville Road, during the weekend, Granite City officers followed the auto south, stopping it at Third Street in Madison.

The driver, later identified as Michael Y. Terrell, 22, of 201 Weaver St., Venice, walked back to the squad car and was talking with one officer when a second officer, who was watching the passenger, ordered the passenger to get out of the vehicle and lie face down on the pavement. Terrell also was instructed to do the same.

The action was taken after a gun allegedly was seen in the auto. Seen near the passenger, Ivory Scott, 39, of 307 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, was the handle of a weapon, protruding from underneath a jacket lying on the front seat.

A 32-caliber, six-shot revolver containing six live rounds allegedly was recovered from the vehicle and a hypodermic syringe was found in the possession of one man.

A Granite City police sergeant and a Madison officer also responded to the scene.

Terrell was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, unlawful possession of a hypodermic syringe, not having a Firearm Owner's Identification (FOID) card, driving while his license was revoked and not having taillights on the vehicle.

Scott was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and not having a FOID card.

Both men were held pending further investigation.

Would-be driver, 13, hurt, faces charges

Two houses and a new 1984 Camaro Z28 sustained heavy damage during the weekend in an accident involving a 13-year-old boy from Ponton, Mo., who was injured.

The incident attracted a large crowd to the 2100 block of State Street, where the boy drove the vehicle at a high rate of speed around a corner turning south from 22nd Street onto State Street, a witness said.

The car apparently went out of control on the turn and ended up striking the residence of Helen DeRuntz at 2154 State St., and a house at 2152 State St., whose owners are listed as Ed Bos and Cynthia Townsend, reports said.

The boy sustained an injury and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He told officers the accelerator stuck on the vehicle, but officers at the scene failed to find any malfunction, it was noted.

Richard J. Sutton, 17, of 2414 Madison Ave., a passenger in the car was not hurt. He was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive.

The youthful driver was charged with not having a valid driver's license and reckless driving. He is to appear for a court hearing Nov. 2. The vehicle involved is the property of John Novotny Chevrolet Agency, Niedringhaus and Madison Avenues.

TAVERN BURGLARY

An unknown amount of money was taken in a burglary reported last week at T.J.'s Tavern, 1539 Madison Ave. A door was forced open to gain entry and an inventory was being conducted to determine if other items were missing, reports said.

Postponed decision on Mehelic position

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

A hearing to determine whether Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic may continue his duties as highway commissioner has been continued until 1 p.m. Oct. 9, Madison County Chief Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson was to conduct the hearing Tuesday, but postponed the proceedings at the request of the defense.

Mehelic was convicted July 17 of one count of official misconduct for ordering township employees to do work on a personal car.

ON SEPT. 13, Ferguson sentenced Mehelic to two years of probation, ordered him to devote 200 hours to public service work and fined him $500 plus court costs and fees.

But Judge Ferguson delayed implementing the sentence until Mehelic's attorney's appeal of the conviction.

At that, sentencing, the judge declined to rule on the question of forfeiture of office, saying that the question of forfeiture of office is not a sentence.

THE NEXT day, Sept. 14, Judge Ferguson denied a petition for a temporary order that would have prevented Mehelic from serving as highway commissioner. The judge ruled that a quo warranto motion would be the appropriate method to oust Mehelic, and such a motion had been filed by Assistant State Attorney John Delaney Jr.

The judge then set Oct. 2 as the date to consider Delaney's quo warranto motion.

Nameoki Township Trustee Helen Hawkins has told the Press-Record that the Board of Trustees should take steps to replace Mehelic, since Illinois statutes call for public officials to resign after a felony conviction. But Mehelic's attorneys have contended in court that case law indicates the term "conviction" may apply only after all appeals are exhausted.

MEHELIC is free on a $10,000 recognizance bond, but he still faces five more counts of official misconduct on charges of directing employees to perform personal work for him on township time.

Meanwhile, several township highway department employees contacted the Press-Record to object to a statement about them in another local newspaper. A front-page photograph showed highway department workers blacktopping a road, and the caption under the photo indicated that the workers had "pledged their support for Frank Mehelic."

Some of those workers told the Press-Record that they are "neutral" on the case, neither supporting nor opposing Mehelic.

ASKED WHETHER they feel that Mehelic should forfeit his job, a worker who asked not to be identified to protect his job said, "That's everybody's own opinion. We were all summoned for the grand jury investigation and the trial. I don't think they (reporters for the other newspaper) should put something like this in the paper."

He further claimed that the workers were never asked about their support for Mehelic and that the statement about their "support" probably came from Mehelic.

Four children hurt at Madison and 27th

At least five persons sustained injuries in a three-car accident at 3:10 p.m. Monday on Madison Avenue at 27th Street.

According to reports, the mishap occurred when an auto traveling north on Madison Avenue, operated by King B. Lyons, 76, of 818 Jefferson St., Madison, turned left onto 27th Street in front of an auto driven by Lisa J. Wagner, 26, of 2235 State St., which was heading south.

The Lyons auto then struck the vehicle of Virginia E. Littlejohn, 29, of 2152a Benton St., which was halted at a traffic light facing east on 27th Street, reports alleged.

Lyons, who suffered an injury and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way while turning left and Mrs. Wagner was cited for failing to use a child restraint seat.

Injured in the Wagner car were Adam D. Wagner, 15 months, of the State Street address, and Jassen Rousseau, 6, of St. Louis, both of whom were taken by ambulance to the medical center. James G. Wagner, 6, of 2235 State St., another passenger, and Mrs. Wagner also went to SEMC by ambulance, but apparently were not hurt, according to police reports.

Two children injured in the Littlejohn car and taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center were Shane M. Littlejohn, 4, and Bobbie Jo Littlejohn, 7, both of 2152a Benton St.

Mrs. Littlejohn also went by ambulance to the hospital, but reports did not indicate that she was hurt.

TV AND WATCH TAKEN

Charles Thomas of 1277 Calhoun St., Venice, told police earlier this week that someone broke into his residence, taking a 13-inch color television and a watch valued at $10. Entry was gained by breaking out a window pane on the front door.

GC downtown coordinator, renovations are discussed

Members of the Granite City downtown rehabilitation committee met with Mayor Paul Schuler Tuesday night to discuss qualifications for a downtown coordinator and preliminary plans for a renovation of the downtown area.

The committee agreed that the downtown coordinator should have planning experience and should be interested in selling the entire city of Granite City, not just the downtown area. The coordinator also should have a knowledge of funding sources and procedures to apply for funding, the group decided.

Mayor Schuler said he feels it would take a big commercial enterprise to bring contractors back to the downtown area. "I realize this can't happen overnight," he said.

The mayor suggested that perhaps a craft show could be used to kick off advertisement of the downtown area. "We need someone to draw people into the area," he said. "But the bottom line is getting someone to organize that."

"I was thinking that someone with experience as being a coordinator for a shopping center would be good for the job. Someone who would have a knowledge of that—selling available space. I'd rather get someone like that than get involved in a planning deal where we have to go with what the planner wants to do with the area."

Alderman Sharon Perjak, suggested that the city explore a plan for a discount mall. "They're the biggest and hottest things around now," she said.

Mrs. Perjak said a new discount mall recently opened in Wentzville, Mo. She said another example of the type of project she is talking about is in Florissant, Mo., at the Marshall's Shopping Center complex.

Mayor Schuler suggested that the committee meet with James Penick, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. To discuss the plans further, Schuler said he will investigate the Wentzville discount mall, to get a better idea of the concept.

Truck traffic is prohibited on 19th Street

Granite City aldermen approved an ordinance Tuesday night which will prohibit truck traffic from traveling on 19th Street to Madison Avenue.

The traffic committee of the council also requested that a meeting be called next week to discuss the establishment of additional truck routes in the city.

The traffic meeting will be conducted at 6 p.m. Monday at city hall.

A meeting of the Youth Temperance Council will convene at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, at Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, 21st Street and Dewey Avenue, according to Mrs. Doris Brown, director.

The meeting is open to all young people between the ages of 13 and 21 who reside in the community.

Mrs. Brown said the group is non-denominational and all young people are invited to attend.

BURGLAR TAKES CASH

A burglar pushed in a rear door at the home of Yolanda Williams, 101 Weaver St., Venice, and ransacked a bedroom, stealing $147 cash, during the weekend.

Methodists to invest bishop

Several thousand United Methodists from Illinois will gather Sunday, Oct. 7, at the Prairie Capital Convention Center, E. Adams and N. 9th streets, Springfield, to welcome the Illinois area's new presiding bishop, Woodie W. White.

The investiture service, set to run from 5 to 6:30 p.m., will draw leaders from the state government and from other denominations. It will include a massed choir of more than 1,000 voices made up of members of Methodist churches and colleges choirs. A procession of several hundred gowned clergy will begin the occasion.

White, formerly general secretary of the General Commission on Religion and Race of the United Methodist Church, Washington, D.C., was elected to the episcopacy at the North Central Jurisdiction Conference, July 18 at Duluth, Minn. His assignment to the Illinois area and consecration as a bishop came at the conference's close July 20.

The nine-state North Central Jurisdiction is one of five such regional units in the U.S. All five were meeting simultaneously and together elected a total of 19 new United Methodist bishops to replace retiring leaders.

White began work at the Illinois Area episcopal office, Springfield, Sept. 1. The New York City native replaces Bishop Leroy C. Hodapp, who had served since 1976. Bishop Hodapp was assigned to the Indiana area of the UMC as resident bishop.

Preaching at the investiture will be Harrell Beck, professor of Old Testament at Boston University's School of Theology. His subject will be "The Smile of God—Our Ultimate Trust."

As the presiding bishop of the Illinois area, White will oversee the ministry and outreach of 235,000 United Methodists in more than 1,000 congregations served by 775 active pastors.

The area includes Rock Island and Kankakee on the northern border and extends to the eastern, western, and southern boundaries of the state.

Included are two major administrative judicatory units—the Southern Illinois and Central Illinois conferences—in addition to 12 districts and 30 conference and area-wide agencies.

Area school boards to study cost cutting

Salary schedule structure, collective bargaining, board and staff relationships, current issues in school finance, and cost cutting measures will be among the topics when area school board members and superintendents meet at North Junior High School in Collinsville on Wednesday, Oct. 10.

The semi-annual conference and dinner for member districts of the Southwestern Division, Illinois Association of School Boards, begins with an open house at 5 p.m. and dinner at 6. The keynote address will be by L. Goebel Patton, retired superintendent of West Frankfort.

The IASB is a voluntary service organization of 815 Illinois school boards, with offices in Springfield and Lombard. The Southwestern Division includes the counties of Jersey, Madison, Monroe, Randolph and St. Clair.

Video programs set

Free video programs will be shown during fall quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The videos include: Never Say Never Again, Oct. 8 to 12; An American Werewolf in London, Oct. 22 to 26; Police Academy, Nov. 5 to 9 and Sudden Impact, Nov. 26 to 30.

ROCKWORLD, a one-hour music video featuring some of today's top music groups and performers, will be shown during the weeks of Oct. 1 to 5, Oct. 15 to 19, Oct. 29 to Nov. 2, Nov. 12 to 16 and Dec. 3 to 7. Showtimes are Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 12:30 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday at 10:30 a.m. in the Video Lounge on the second floor of the University Center. Health centers to note Respect Life Week

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 7, Catholic health care facilities nationwide will begin observance of the 13th annual Respect Life Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops (NCCB).

In endorsing the week, John E. Curley Jr., president of the Catholic Health Association of the United States, noted that respect for all life is a keystone of Catholic Health care.

"Our daily business is healing people in need, respecting their lives at the time they are hurting most," Curley added.

"Our ministry is committed to serving all people, to respecting all life, to bringing Christ's healing love to all people regardless of age, handicap, race, religion, or economic status."

"We are pleased to be a part of the bishops' movement to encourage a similar respect for all life in other segments of society, especially when the emphasis this year includes those special populations most in need of all of us — handicapped newborns, adult patients who can no longer make their own decisions, and the poor."

The more than 900 Catholic health care facilities that are members of the CHA will be joining Catholic parishes, schools and other church ministries nationwide in the weeklong observance, Oct. 7-13.

Topics selected for emphasis by the NCCB during the week are: "Abortion: The Human Factor," "The Equality of Life and Handicapped Persons," "Representing the Interests of Incompetent Adults," "Capital Punishment in America Today," "Christian Values: From Generation to Generation," "The Homeless, the Hungry and the Church," and "Spirituality and Persons With Disabilities."

CHA, headquartered in St. Louis, is a professional association of 622 Catholic-sponsored hospitals, 285 long-term care facilities, and 46 health care systems, as well as the 12 dioceses and the almost 300 religious congregations of women and men that sponsor them.

Matthew Cotter elected DeMolay master councilor

Matthew J. Cotter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cotter, 3730 Joyce Ave., was elected master councilor of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at the chapter's regular meeting last week.

He became a DeMolay on May 29, 1980 as a member of the John "Duke" Wayne Memorial Class, and has served the chapter as an appointed and elected officer and has earned a number of DeMolay Merit bars.

He is a senior at Granite City High School where he is also a member of Vica. He attends Calvary Baptist Church where he is a member and was active in the Royal Ambassadors.

Also elected were Ralph F. McKinney Jr., senior councilor; J. Gary Ishum, junior councilor; Steven W. Canada, chaplain and Terry R. Cory, treasurer. The elected and appointed officers will be installed in a public ceremony at the Masonic Temple, 20th Street and

Local bank official attends conference

John H. Tallgren, vice president and trust officer of First Granite City National Bank has returned from the Harris Trust and Savings Bank's 20th annual Investment Outlook Conference in Chicago.

The conference, attended by 200 bank trust department investment officers from all over the country, was sponsored by Harris Bank's Institutional Investment Service. Featured in the program were overviews for key economic sectors and industries, as well as common stock and fixed-income investment strategy.

Dr. Robert J. Genetski, vice president and chief economist at Harris Trust and Savings Bank, told the group that the underpinnings of the U.S. recovery remain strong. "Lower tax rates have restored productivity increases and placed the economy on the road toward prosperity. Although temporary mistakes in monetary policy may slow the recovery this fall, the economy will continue to perform well through the upcoming year," he predicted. Genetski also noted that interest rates are not likely to change dramatically in the year ahead. "Although rates appear unusually high, appearances can be deceptive," he said. "Expectations of inflation account for 3 to 6 percentage points, and the high tax structure adds an additional 4 to 5 percentage points to today's rates. What remains—the real after-tax interest rate—is no higher today than in the 1960s. In order for rates to move significantly higher or lower, there would have to be a significant change in either expected inflation or expected taxes."

The speaker concluded, "Although there are some potential problems ahead for the U.S. economy, there are tentative signs that the best is yet to come. Recent developments suggest that the odds of a further reduction in tax rates and government spending have improved. Such developments, if they occur, would usher in a new wave of prosperity for the late 1980s."

Council repeals solicitation hours amendment

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

After being advised by City Attorney John Papa to do so, Granite City aldermen repealed an amendment to the city's solicitation ordinance, which limits hours for canvassing.

The amendment limited the hours for solicitation in the city from 1 to 6 p.m. The reinstated hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

BUT PAPA told council members, that he had received information concerning the constitutionality of the amendment and it did not reflect favorably for the city.

Papa was referring to a court case in which the City of Watseka, Ill., was sued by the Illinois Public Action Council for limiting their hours of solicitation. The judgment went against Watseka and the city subsequently had to pay $3,300 to the organization for lost revenue and compensatory damages.

The attorney said that, in light of this information, he does not feel Granite City would be able to support its case in court, if a lawsuit were to result. "Apparently the court does not feel that 1 to 6 p.m. is a reasonable amount of time to canvass," he said.

FURTHERMORE, both Papa and Alderman Sam Whitmer said they had been contacted by a member of the Illinois Public Action Council concerning the amendment. "I received a call from a gentleman in Chicago and he wanted to know what our problem was down here," said Whitmer. "He told me his group was very aware of the amendment."

Whitmer said he would hate to see the city sued over the amendment, causing the taxpayers money. "I'm galled by it, but maybe I'm off-center on the thing," he said. "I think the group is infringing on the rights of the citizens and the elderly by being allowed to knock on people's doors late at night."

Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad had other reservations about the solicitors. "I've been at home when these people have come around and the biggest question is my mind is the way they present themselves," he said. "I think they should wear some type of a button or some type of identification."

ALDERMAN Carl Kittel agreed and requested that an amendment be brought in that would require groups to wear some type of identification.

Gymnastic class at YMCA

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer a gymnastics class for youth, ages 6 to 12, beginning Monday, Oct. 8. The class will be on Monday and Wednesday evening from 6 to 8:45. Class sessions will meet for four weeks.

The class will consist of stretching, tumbling, floor exercise and apparatus participation. The skill level of the class will be varied from the beginner to the advanced gymnast. Sally Firnkies will conduct each class.

Sally Firnkies comes to the Tri-

City Area YMCA with experience from Belleville YMCA and St. Mary's grade school. She is very excited and enthusiastic about developing a solid gymnastic program, a spokesman said.

Interested individuals should register at the YMCA. Cost of the class will be $10 for "Y" members, and $15 for non-members.

causing the taxpayers money. "I'm galled by it, but maybe I'm off-center on the thing," he said. "I think the group is infringing on the rights of the citizens and the elderly by being allowed to knock on people's doors late at night."

Alderman Lloyd Bailey said he could not see a reason for having brought in the ordinance in the first place. "If someone doesn't want to let these people in, they can do the same way that people do to me when I'm polioing, slam the door in their face," he said.

Alderman Sharon Perjak said she feels the council is not aware of the integrity of the public action group. "This is not a fly-by-night organization," she said. "They've done a lot for the public."

SHE FURTHER added that she questioned the legality of the solicitation amendment at the time it was brought in.

Weber speaker at national symposium on child protection

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber has been asked to address a Justice Department national symposium in Washington, D.C. this week. The symposium, "Protecting Our Children: The Fight Against Molestation," began Monday and is ending today at the Great Hall of the Department of Justice.

It is jointly sponsored by NOVA (National Organization for Victim Assistance) and OJARS (Office of Justice Assistance, Research, and Statistics). Weber has previously lectured at the National Medical Center in Washington, D.C., at a seminar concerning child sexual abuse in the school system.

His comments relate to the prosecution of child molesters and the interaction between various law enforcement agencies and support personnel, including Rape Crisis Center at SIUE headed by Pam Klein.

In the letter asking Weber to attend, Assistant Attorney General Lois Herrington commended the local prosecutor for his "exemplary work in this area" and added that "your expertise is needed to develop specific recommendations for action."

The symposium was welcomed by U.S. Attorney General William French Smith.

The keynote address was by Florida's U.S. Senator Paula Hawkins, who recently disclosed that she had been the victim of a child molester.

The Madison County state's attorney's travel arrangements and expenses were provided for by NOVA and OJARS.

ALLEGED ARREST RESISTED

Eugene Herrod, 30, of 83 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was charged recently with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. Roosevelt Darden was talking to policemen when Herrod allegedly ran up to him, carrying a baseball bat and loudly voicing threats; after the arrest, it is contended, Herrod pushed an officer and tried to break free.

has been in the steel business for 70 years and is not subsidized by the Japanese government. It is a private corporation which pays taxes and assessments to the government. "We are not subsidized, we are subsidizing the government," Doi stated.

The steel industry is important to both the United States and Japan, he said, adding that "both countries are facing a very difficult time. (Jointly) we will have the opportunity to survive and prosper. I believe by combining the best management techniques and know-how, the U.S. and Japan can go far," Doi added.

He concluded, "We are proud to be a part of National Steel and proud to be a part of the Granite City community and Granite City."

MCBRIDE NOTED that Great Lakes Steel will grow more than the other divisions during the next few years as an all-out effort is made to increase National's share of the domestic automotive steel market.

The joint National/Kokan venture has pledged to reinvest all of its profits back into its plants and the five-year plan projects reinvesting $2 million into Granite City Steel, but not for new facilities. The money will be used to improve and upgrade existing facilities. "At Granite City, we plan to make improvements based on quality and productivity.

There are no plans at the moment for the expansion of the total tonnage at any of the three plants," he said.

New facilities monies will be used primarily for the electro-galvanizing line at Great Lakes and currently under discussion is a new continuous slab caster for the Great Lakes Division, McBride said. Also, there will be a major rebuilding of the metric coke oven batteries in Detroit, he noted.

THE FIVE-YEAR plan is subject to change. "If there is improved product and tonnage so our profits are large, it seems to me that we can grow because the market can increase," McBride said.

He explained that Kokan's purchase of half of National Steel will not end the competition between the Japanese firm and the American business. "We will continue to compete with Japan and Kokan in the world class. I think the competition will be as tough or tougher (in the future)," he noted.

Commenting on National's decision to negotiate independently with the Steelworkers union, McBride said that all Steelworkers unions' contracts throughout the country will expire in 1986. At that time, National will negotiate its own contract with its employees.

HE SAID it took two years for National to break with the coordinating committee, but that it was done because "the coordinating committee is driven by the larger companies. We had not very much leverage to begin with. If we wanted to know how the negotiations were going, we had to call them from a pay phone.

"I think we can do much better on our own. I feel very strongly that we can do better for both sides," he added. Asked why National had not broken with the coordinating committee years ago, McBride answered, "No guts, to put it bluntly." He added, "The cooperative situation with our employees wasn't right before."

The tree planting followed the press conference. Participating were officials of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber's Women's Division.

Then, National Steel hosted 90 civic leaders at a luncheon at the Collinsville Hilton, where McBride, Doi and Swanson spoke.

THE TOP leaders of National Steel, McBride, Doi and Tani then gave an exclusive one-hour interview to the Press-Record. That interview focused on what the merger may mean to Granite City and Granite City Steel. Details from the interview will appear in Monday's Press-Record.

Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) and Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) asking for their support for the measure, if it does get to the general assembly.

Skubish said earlier that he is not in favor of any special tax that would be placed on the lottery sales, nor would he be in favor of a measure that would cut lottery vendors' profits.

HE CITED a city-wide financial crisis which could be solved by extra revenue. The school district's financial difficulties and the repair of more than 20 city sewer breaks are among problems the lottery revenue to help solve, he said.

Worthen will address the Firefighters Union at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 10, and will speak before the Knights of Columbus membership at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9. He also will talk to the Democrat Precinct Committee group at 7 p.m. on Oct. 26.

Other requests came from the American Association of Retired Persons, Chapter 1340 on Oct. 10 at the Granite City Township Hall at 7:30 p.m., Anchorage Senior Citizen Club, Dave Nolan, superintendent of parks and recreation, will attend a meeting of the Golden Agers Circle Club on Tuesday, Oct. 9.

that did not see a large amount of traffic from lottery sales. "He wanted to know how the resolution would help his community," he said. "I told him the percentage each municipality would receive may be based on lottery sales, or it may be based on a per capita basis."

THE ALDERMAN said the resolution will now go to the legislative committee of the IML, which consists of the same members as the resolution committee. The group will meet in the early part of December.

Skubish said in the meantime, the legislative staff of the committee will investigate what percentage will be included in the resolution and from where this percentage might come. The committee will then act on these resolutions.

He said if the committee approves the resolution, the law will go to the Illinois General Assembly for review and, hopefully, passage during their spring session.

SKUBISH said the response from the committee has left him optimistic. "I feel like we're going to get their support," he told council members.

He said there are no local officials on the committee. The closest municipality represented being Maryville. He did say, however, that Mayor Paul Schuler sent a letter to local representatives — State Sen.

meeting tonight at 7 o'clock at the Harold Brown Recreation Center to organize a volunteer citizen committee to promote a positive vote for the bond issue on Nov. 6.

George Sykes, park board president, conducted a strategy meeting Wednesday night with other park commissioners to compile all pertinent facts to be included in an informational brochure and distribute to residents of the park district.

"We want the citizens to attend this meeting Thursday night and elect a chairman and treasurer and formulate a plan of action to inform the public of facts concerning the bond issue. Since the park district cannot use funds to advertise for assistance, all monies will be derived from public donations," Sykes explained.

"ONE FACT that I do not think people are considering is that the most the bond issue would cost the average homeowner is $150 over a 10-year period," Park Commissioner John "Jeff" Worthen explained.

Several requests were received from community and civic clubs for a speaker from the park board to attend club meetings and present positive information relating to the new pool.

Deaf patients at SEMC are assisted by interpreter

Most people think of deaf individuals as being persons who are unable to communicate with others. But thanks to a program instituted at St. Elizabeth Medical Center (SEMC), the deaf are getting a chance to say their piece.

SEMC has contracted for the services of Communicate Plus, a St. Louis support service for the hearing and hearing impaired. The interpreters are on a 24-hour on-call basis, ready to assist with any deaf-related communication problem the center encounters.

According to one of the service's interpreters, SEMC is the only hospital in Madison and St. Clair counties to have such a program.

New law sets-up business centers

Legislation creating a network of small business development centers in the state has been signed into law by Governor James Thompson, according to State Representative Sam W. Wolf of Granite City.

House Bill 3091, supported by Wolf and Illinois House Speaker Michael Madigan, authorizes the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs to create a Business Assistance Office to aid in the development of new and existing enterprises in the State of Illinois. "The Business Assistance Office will oversee the small business development center network," Wolf said. "The small business development centers will help entrepreneurs obtain federal contracts along with other technical and general assistance."

The governor signed into law another bill supported by Wolf exempting small businesses from the Employee Access to Personnel Records Act.

"This bill will lessen the burden of governmental regulation on small business," Wolf said. "With small business being the most significant contributor of new jobs, its important that we don't overburden them with costly and time consuming paperwork."

The governor also signed into law a bill expediting the refund process for overpayment of sales taxes for businesses.

"HB3161 permits a taxpayer to notify the Department of Revenue (DOR) when an overpayment is made," Wolf said. "If the DOR does not respond or object to the claim in 30 days, the claimant may deduct the overpayment amount from future tax payments."

Wolf stated that the DOR has taken up to nine months to give some refunds.

The new law only applies to certain business taxes such as the Retailers Occupation Tax Act, the Service Occupation Tax Act, the Use Tax Act and the Service Use Tax Act.

DR. SHIPLEY RETURNS FROM TEXAS SEMINAR

Dr. Larry A. Shipley, Granite City chiropractor, recently attended a four-day postgraduate seminar in Dallas, Texas.

Dr. Shipley joined more than 2,000 other doctors of chiropractic, their assistants and spouses from the United States, Canada and several foreign countries to participate in a postgraduate educational seminar in Dallas. This was the 27th seminar sponsored by the Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation of Fort Worth, Texas, in the past 33 years. More than 50 recognized educators presented 140 classes covering nearly every phase of a chiropractic practice.

Dr. Shipley is a graduate of Logan College of Chiropractic and Southern Illinois University. His office is located at 2502 Pontoon Road.

EDWARD J. EVANS OF

Granite City has been promoted to the position of sales manager with Gruendler Crusher. He joined the company as a salesman in 1983. Gruendler Crusher, a division of Lukens General Industries, Inc., manufactures custom crushing, shredding, granulating and pulverizing equipment for processing wood, paper, glass, metal, stone and various waste materials. Evans and his wife, Helen, have four children.

"SEMC knows the problems that deaf patients encounter and is doing something about it," the interpreter said. "Deafness is a handicap that affects many in the Quad-City area, perhaps 5,000."

The interpreter said that problems of deaf people are compounded when they are confronted with the illness of alcoholism. "The treatment of alcoholics is achieved by, among other things, counseling and group talk sessions," she said. "But a deaf person thrown into a discussion with hearing individuals is much like an American being thrown into a discussion with French-speaking people."

"Many think that a deaf person is unable to communicate, but this is not true. The deaf communicate through American Sign Language. The problem, then, has not been the deaf person's ability to communicate, but the ability of hearing individuals to interpret that communication, and vice-versa."

"SEMC is now able to assist all

'I love you' in Sign Language deaf patients, including the treatment of Talbot Hall's first deaf alcoholic."

Tom Michael, assistant director of Talbot Hall, said this could not have been accomplished five years ago. "We just didn't have the resources to handle a deaf alcoholic," he said. The interpreter terms the institution of the program a "big breakthrough" in medical treatment in Southern Illinois. "If the patient is to receive information and knowledge about his problem, he has to be able to understand what is being said," she said. "This program allows the deaf person to be equal.

"Now that he has been given the information, it is up to him to change, if he chooses to. Once patients receive the information, they are not allowed to use deafness as an excuse."

"Being allowed to have an interpreter makes all the difference in a deaf person's success. With the information, he can make the decision that is his to make."

The interpreter said she feels deafness is the most misunderstood handicap. "Deafness is really a hidden handicap, because it is hard to detect. Other persons may interpret the deaf person's silence as indicating he is aloof."

"I always like to quote Helen Keller's saying about deafness. She said 'blindness is a barrier between people and things, but deafness is a barrier between people and people.'"

The interpreter said she hopes to make other hospitals aware of the communication needs of the deaf. "Acceptance of the program at SEMC has been tremendous," she said.

"The program has pulled both the staff and the patients together. That says a lot for the patients and the workers in the unit."

Venice to host area park district leaders

For the first time in its history, the Venice Park District and its recreation department will host a meeting of the Southern Illinois Park and Recreation Association at 10 a.m. Friday.

The organization meets once a month in different locations, according to Arnold Johnson, president of the Venice Park Board, and Charles Collins, Venice recreation director.

Members will convene Friday at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice, with a luncheon to be served following the business session.

George Bryant of Salem is president of the Southern Illinois Parks and Recreation Association.

Districts and representatives scheduled to attend tomorrow's session include:

Robert Lee Angleton, East Alton; William Burkhardt and Mike Gehrs, Carlyle; Dave Nolan, Granite City; Cara Harris and Jerome Zobariet, Highland; Doug Hubbard and Mark Badasch, Roxana; Fred Hall, Palatine, and Debbie Stuehmer and

Susan Surand, Centralia.

Also Tracey Schmidt, Edwardsville; Fred Thompson and Marilee Verdu, Belleville; Lou Bobka, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; John Downs, Jerseyville; E.L. Pavledes, Charlie Matson, George Whitehead, Carbonale; Bryant, Salem, and Dale Crawford and Collins, Venice.

FILE CONDUCT CHARGE

Police were called during the weekend when a 16-year-old Granite City youth was pounding on the door of a home in the 2000 block of Bryan Avenue and refused to identify himself to the occupant. Charged with disorderly conduct, the youth later was released upon posting a $52 cash bond.

Driver's license facilities closing for Columbus Day

All Secretary of State offices and facilities will be closed for the Columbus Day holiday, Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced. Downstate Driver Services Facilities outside Cook County will be closed Saturday, Oct. 6, and will reopen Tuesday, Oct. 9.

All other offices and facilities will be closed Monday, Oct. 8, and will resume business Tuesday, Oct. 9. Edgar also announced that automobile owners with license plates expiring in October who have not mailed their applications should buy their new plates or stickers at a secretary of state facility or financial institution.

It is now too late to send applications by mail and guarantee delivery of the new plates or stickers before the Oct. 31 expiration deadline. However, stickers and plates may be purchased at secretary of state facilities in Springfield and Chicago, and at more than 1,400 financial institutions, including 600 banks, 171 savings and loan associations, 16 credit unions and about 600 Chicago area currency exchanges.

"If you have a current license plate with numbers only, you will be issued new plates this year," Edgar explained. "During the next three years, all 5.5 million cars in Illinois will receive license plates with the new design."

Motorists wishing to keep their same plate number may apply for their new plates through a secretary of state facility or financial institution.

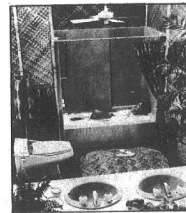

Pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to approximately 661,000 owners who renew their stickers in October, and 58,000 owners who will receive the new passenger car license plates.

Venice police to launch 'Crime Blocker' program

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The Venice Police Department will inaugurate the community's first "Crime Blocker" citizens' involvement program at a special meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday at the new Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center, Brown and Klein streets.

Venice Police Sergeant Burl Reed has been appointed to work with local residents wishing to become involved in such a program. It was announced by Mayor Tyrone Echols at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

THE MAYOR URGED all residents interested in becoming a volunteer "Crime Blocker," a program recognized by law enforcement authorities as a crime deterrent, to attend Saturday's session and learn more about the program. Council members heard an appeal for such action two weeks ago when Mrs. Carolyn Wilson asked for help in forming a citizens' group to aid in reducing the number of burglaries and other criminal acts in the community.

Responding to the question whether Venice now has a sufficient number of police officers, Mayor Echols said Tuesday, "We have enough, according to the Department of Justice recommendation, which calls for two officers per 1,000 residents. We've got twice that number of officers," he added.

MAYOR ECHOLS also commented upon recent incidents in which warrants were often denied by the Madison County state's attorney's office or a suspect was caught and then released.

"If they don't hold them (burglary suspects) when they are caught, there is nothing we can do," the mayor stressed.

He reiterated once more that people dissatisfied with what is happening (releasing suspects) should get together and go to Edwardsville and find out why such things (as refusal to issue felony charges in some cases) occur, the mayor said.

"IT SEEMS like they (state's attorney's office) are not concerned about us here and I've said it before. They are politicians too, and an election is coming up, so now is the time," Mayor Echols stressed.

Mrs. Dorothy Griegs asked, "What should we as concerned citizens do?" and another woman in the audience Tuesday stated emphatically, "Well, I am ready to go to Edwardsville."

Echols responded, "What I'd like to get the Crime Blockers in place, as the emphasis may not be the same if three of us went up there rather than a larger group."

Sgt. Reed has a list of 25 residents who have indicated interest in the Crime Blocker program, he informed the aldermen. He requested all Venice citizens wanting to find out more to come to Saturday's orientation session.

Basically, a Crime Blocker is a concerned citizen who observes suspicious activities or emergency situations and provides that information to the police department.

"The public peace of cities is not kept primarily by the police (as necessary as police are. It is kept primarily by an intricate, almost unconscious, network of voluntary controls and standards among the people themselves," a well-known urban expert has stated.

SECURITY is dependent upon fellow citizens. No police department can effectively protect life and property without the support and cooperation of the citizens it serves, law enforcement officials have learned over the years.

The Crime Blocker program will establish a formal network for citizen reporting of emergency problems to Venice or other Quad-City area law enforcement agencies, Sgt.

Reed said.

A training session will be scheduled so the police sergeant can give professional instruction to enable each Crime Blocker to know what to look for, how to identify someone and how to properly call police.

EACH CRIME BLOCKER is given a personal number to identify himself when calling about an emergency or crime. He or she need not give a name or address, it was stressed.

The radio dispatcher receiving the phone call will give priority to the call and will take the information and immediately dispatch a squad car. Consideration is given Crime Blockers because of their special training, Sgt. Reed noted.

Criming Blockers may use their Crime Blocker identification number when calling about emergency problems only, it is stressed.

SITUATIONS in which a number should be used include alarm sounding, assault, burglary, child molestation, fights, flourishing a weapon, homicide or odor of gas.

Also, serious auto accident or a person struck by an auto, shooting, suicide, suspicious person, robbery, prowler attempting entry, purse snatching, rape and attempted rape, shots fired, wires down or burning, and persons tampering with a vehicle, among others.

Non-emergency problems, such as sanitation, stolen license plates, abandon autos, unnecessary noise, dogs barking, lost or recovered articles or some being locked out of an auto or a home, must be called to the police in the normal way, it was emphasized.

Other aspects of the program will be explained at Saturday's 10 a.m. meeting, Sgt. Reed said. Persons desiring further information may call the Venice Police Department at 877-2114.

Fire department to conduct open house

The Long Lake Fire Department will host an open house in observance of Fire Prevention Week Sunday, Oct. 7, from noon to 4 p.m.

Equipment will be displayed and demonstrated at the fire house, 4113 Pontoon Road. In addition, Smokey the Bear will make an appearance, and gifts will be given to all children attending.

Group tours can be arranged by calling 931-2655.

Fire Prevention Week to be observed

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7 through 13, is approaching and with it comes some of the worst months for forest fires, according to David Gillespie, program manager for forest protection program for the Department of Conservation.

Fire Prevention Week is observed annually on the anniversary of the Chicago Fire, Oct. 8, according to Gillespie, but it also is the same week a forest fire wiped out 1.28 million acres and killed 1,500 people near Green Bay, Wis., also in 1871.

Going into Fire Prevention Week and the critical fall months that follow, Gillespie feels the danger levels for forest fires in Illinois are moderate.

"We're okay right now; rainfall is about average. However, if we don't get timely rains we will be in bad shape," Gillespie said. "There hasn't been a bad fire season since 1981, so there are three years worth of accumulated combustible materials on the forest floors." Gillespie also pointed out that severe droughts and hard winters have killed many forest plants and trees. "This makes conditions right for a bad fire," he said. Forest fires cost Illinois residents more than $160 million per year. In 1983, wildfires claimed 948 acres in Illinois, several hundred acres less than the average. Since heavily forested southern Illinois is especially vulnerable to forest fire losses, seven counties require a burning permit during the five worst months of the year.

"People must be conscious that there are two fire seasons each year—in the fall from the first of October to the end of November and in the spring from the first of February through the end of April."

"During these months, people should practice good fire prevention." He warned people not to flip lit cigarettes out the window, let ground fires burn unattended or take other unnecessary risks.

The effects of fire on the land can be a long term. "It can affect woods by killing seedlings and saplings, as well as the larger trees." Fires also cause erosion by burning the watershed portion offered by vegetation. Fires destroy cover for a lot of wildlife, Gillespie noted. "Some fires are beneficial for wildlife, but uncontrollable wild fires don't fall into this category."

Also, fires are not aesthetically pleasing. "No one likes to see a burned forest where a green one used to be," Gillespie said.

Camelot auction will aid charity

"Camelot" was once the site of King Arthur's mythical domain and it will come to life again Saturday, Oct. 27, when Granite City Rotarians and Optimists stage their annual Camelot benefit auction.

A social time and browsing among the items to be auctioned will start at 5:30, with a buffet dinner from 6 to 7:15. Bidding will begin at 8 p.m. Location again will be the Sunset Hills Country Club. Members of the two clubs are selling dinner tickets and seeking donated items for the auction.

Funds raised by Camelot will go to the clubs to aid a variety of charitable programs.

Auction plans were discussed at Tuesday's Rotary luncheon, presided over by Pres. Thomas Ross.

It was noted that the Rotary meeting at noon Tuesday, Oct. 16, will feature a public debate by Madison County State's Attorney Don W. Weiler, a Collinsville Republican who is seeking reelection, and the Democratic nominee, Attorney Richard Allen of Granite City.

Guests at the weekly club luncheon were David Menendez and Pamela Roberts of Granite City High School seniors who have high academic records and who each attained a score of 33 in the ACT national testing program. Their achievements were outlined by Warren Decatur.

Willi Seim, immediate past Granite City Rotary president, who has been seriously ill, is making progress in recuperating, the club was told. He cannot yet have visitors.

File six charges against GC woman

Carrie J. Varner Leyer, 21, of 2742 Washington Ave., was charged with criminal damage to property, disorderly conduct and four counts of battery following a weekend disturbance at Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road.

Officers reported the woman was being escorted outside by two employees, Dennis Meyer and Donald Freiner, after causing a disturbance at the bar, when she allegedly became violent and struck both men's faces. It also was alleged that Mrs. Leyer bit Meyer on the thumb and scratched on a finger.

At police headquarters, it was alleged, the woman became combative and struck Police Lt. Glen Wright's face and body.

Before being released on a $400 cash bond, Mrs. Leyer reported a black leather blazer-style coat belonging to her was stolen from a chair while she was in the restaurant. The theft occurred prior to the alleged incident and the coat was valued at $250, she said.

$4,000 burglary in Pontoon Beach

Pontoon Beach Police are investigating the burglary of the Chung H. Ha residence at 4012 Oakmont Drive, Apt. 4, in which more than $4,000 worth of property was taken.

Ha reported last week that his home had been burglarized while he and his family had been away.

According to the police reports, the intruder entered from the rear of the home, breaking a rear window. There were pry marks around the rear door.

Taken from the residence were $2,000 in cash, two gold chains valued at $800, a color television worth $350, a video recorder valued at $400, a gold bracelet worth $200 and a small jade carving costing at $100.

Dui charged after injury accident

After recovering from injuries sustained in an auto accident during the weekend, a 22-year-old East Alton man was charged with driving under the influence of liquor and illegal transportation of alcohol before being released in his own recognizance.

Jeffrey A. Ambrose was driving north on Route 111 when witnesses alleged his vehicle was weaving from lane to lane before striking the median approximately a half-mile south of Interstate 270.

According to the Pontoon Beach Police, Ambrose's vehicle traveled 114 feet on the median, drove over the crossover and continued another 81 feet before coming to a stop.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was treated for minor injuries.

Engagements

Perry Hartwick and Sandra Feeler

Feeler-Hartwick

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Feeler, 3311 Franklin Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sandra L. Feeler to Perry J. Hartwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hartwick, 624 Ashland Ave., Mitchell.

The betrothed couple plan to be married on Nov. 3 at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church.

Miss Feeler graduated from

Schreier-Reagan

The engagement of Miss Dawn Renee Schreier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Schreier of Moro, Ill., and James Donald Reagan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Reagan of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Schreier is a 1981 graduate of Edwardsville High School, and is employed at Lovejoy Library at SIUE where she is a senior student.

Her fiancé also graduated from Edwardsville High School in 1981 and works at Tony Podorski Real Estate in St. Louis.

They plan to be married on Nov. 2.

Protestant Welfare seeks winter clothes

Donations of good used winter clothing, especially children's clothes, are needed by the Protestant Welfare Association, which distributes the garments to area families in need.

Since school started, the demand for winter clothing has substantially increased, Mrs. Delores Gaines, secretary-director, said this week.

SPECIFICALLY needed now is clothing for children between 2 and 10 years old, and maternity clothes in all sizes. Also in demand are men's trousers in 28, 30 and 32-inch waist sizes, men's shoes and men's extra-large clothing items.

Mrs. Gaines said sheets, blankets, pillows and other bedding are being requested and small household appliances will be accepted.

The association operates a pickup service each Wednesday for donated items, with those wishing to contribute clothing or bedding asked to call Mrs. Gaines at 876-8770 for collection times.

PROTESTANT Welfare, a United Way agency, is located at 2052 Edison Ave. The hours of operation are from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Gaines at 876-8770.

Prather Open House set Oct. 9

An Open House program for the benefit of parents and students of Prather School will begin Tuesday, Oct. 9, and continue through the week, according to Mrs. Nancy Marti, school principal.

The first event on Tuesday, Oct. 9, will be for parents of third and fourth grade students from 7 to 8 p.m. Parents are asked to go to the child's room for a meeting and question and answer session to be followed by an open meeting in the cafeteria, the principal explained.

On Thursday, Oct. 11, parents of the first and second grades and fifth and sixth grades are to attend sessions in their child's classroom and gather for an open meeting in the cafeteria.

Final arrangements for the kindergarten class are not completed but more information may be obtained by contacting the school office.

During the September meeting Mrs. Marti introduced the teachers and staff members followed by Joy Bohnenstiel, PTA president, presenting the current PTA officers.

The president announced the next school skating party is scheduled for Oct. 16 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Stopkoff's Rollerland, and each parent who attends the PTA meeting a free RIF book will be given to their child.

Mrs. Mary Rachael a.m. kindergarten teacher and Mrs. Suzanne Lentz, first grade teacher, tied for the most percentage of parents present, and received the $5 prize and PTA banner to be displayed in the classrooms.

The 1984-85 PTA budget was presented by Mrs. Laura Falter, treasurer, and was approved by the membership.

The first day of the month is termed Campbell Soup Day when all labels from the product are to be brought to school for the fund raising project. A prize for the most labels turned in will be awarded at the following PTA meeting. It was noted.

Members also agreed to purchase an electric thermometer for the school nurse. In other business Mrs. Bohnenstiel said the membership drive ended on Sept. 30 and the class with the largest number of new members will receive a $25 prize.

Mrs. Marti addressed the group and explained the importance of the forthcoming school bond issue. She told the group how the state could divide the school district sending some students to other school districts such as Edwardsville, Alton and East St. Louis in the event the school district becomes bankrupt.

Hicks have first child

Jeffrey and Teresa (Murphy) Hicks of Omaha, Neb., have announced the birth of their first child, a daughter, born Sept. 7 at Immanuel Hospital in Omaha.

The baby weighed 6 pounds, 3 ounces at birth and has been named Nicole Ann.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murphy of Granite City, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hicks of Florissant, Mo.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Vida Murphy and Mr. Lowry Reed, both of Granite City, and Mrs. Margaret Gravelley of Orlando, Fla.

Cari Ann Crawford marks birthday

A party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford, 2345 Zippel Ave., for their daughter, Cari Ann Crawford, who celebrated her 11th birthday.

The social event began with bowling at Bowling Lanes followed by pizza at the Goddards and ending with a pajama party at the Crawford residence.

Attending were Jill Broshaw, Stacie Kennerly and Lori Jacobs, Mrs. Crawford and Judi Sparks, godmother of the honoree.

Non-public housing proposal for Venice may get approval

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Venice has a good chance of having its application approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for at least one new non-public housing proposal now before HUD, according to Executive Director Bert Hampton of the Madison County Housing Authority, who provided the information to the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

He stressed the proposed townhouse-apartment complexes are not public housing; that private investors will be sought and construction will be handled by private developers.

Many of the units are geared to elderly residents and those eligible for residency must meet the requirement of having an annual income of less than 80 percent of the median income for Madison County.

This means families with an annual income of close to $20,000 could qualify for residency, Hampton said.

The same rules do not apply to the proposed property as are mandated in public housing, he explained.

Special emphasis will be placed on the Wiseman Room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The speaker for the evening will be Mariene Simmons, representing Image of Missouri. She will introduce the Image custom-made breast prosthesis.

This type of prosthesis does not require further surgery or the use of padding. In a simple 15 to 20-minute procedure, a piece of a cast is made to measure exactly the rib cage and remaining breast. The cast follows the contours of the chest and is made to measure for women who have radical, modified, or simple mastectomies. The cast is made and can be made for women who have radical, modified, or simple mastectomies. The cast is made and can be made for women who have radical, modified, or simple mastectomies.

be raised as the occupant's income increases, Hampton explained.

In accordance with the current rate schedule, some rents in the Bissell Street Apartments now are set at $450 a month, it was noted.

Although the figures offered Tuesday night could not be precise, Hampton said it appears a one-bedroom flat may rent for $180 a month, two bedrooms for $200 and a three-bedroom townhouse possibly for $250 monthly in the new housing developments.

Owners of the proposed property would be responsible for various bills, such as taxes and sewer and water fees, Hampton said.

The director said his staff has "a gut feeling" that a feeling one of the Venice projects will be approved.

Two applications have been submitted to HUD on behalf of Venice. One specifies a five-unit project on property adjacent to the Venice Homes, designated as Venetian Court East, and a projected $2.5 million development near the Wright Homes, designated as Venetian Court West.

HUD received 13 grant applications from three from Madison and Venice, eight from Chicago, one from a Chicago suburb and one from a community that is not eligible for the grant.

A surprise announcement in July that some federal money was available through HUD required applications to be submitted quickly to be considered, Hampton said.

The immediacy of the proposal forced the Madison County Housing Authority staff to compress six months of work into about three weeks, he added.

"I approved the federal government would provide us about half the cost of construction making the mortgage debt extremely low," Hampton said, "happily if we can," the mayor replied.

A renovation-rehabilitation project in the Madison-Venice area also estimated as being in the mid-20s, authorities said. Mr. Triplett was a passenger in a car driven by Ralph Portell, 25, of Washington Park. Mr. Triplett was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

Portell and three other passengers in his car were injured. Injured passengers include Jeanette Sanders, 23, of East St. Louis, and Robin Portell, 4, and Barbara Portell, 1, both of Washington Park. Ralph Portell was transported by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and later transferred to Flinn Desloge Hospital. He was listed in serious condition in the intensive care unit this morning.

The other three passengers also were transferred to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Jeanette Sanders and Robin Portell were treated and later released. Barbara Portell was admitted to the hospital and is listed in fair condition.

Mrs. King, the driver of the other car, was not injured, troopers said. According to Illinois State Police, Mrs. King was driving northbound on Route 111 and Portell was southbound. Mrs. King's vehicle crossed Portell's vehicle almost head-on.

News notes

The lotto grand prize for Saturday's state selection has been increased to $17 million.

A new survey indicates Granite City unemployment has decreased to 11.9 percent, compared to 12.5 percent in Belleville, 11.4 percent in East St. Louis and 10.8 percent in Alton. The overall Madison County jobs rate is 9.7 percent, the entire state of Illinois is 8.6 percent and the St. Louis metropolitan area, 7.4 percent.

Circuit Judge Dennis Cashman of Quincy has ruled that Madison County need not pay $12,881 to two lawyers. The ruling was issued in a case involving the late Edward Moorman, who have represented State's Attorney Don Weber, because they were never named assistant state's attorneys. Cashman said his June 5 order recognizing Weber's right to hire independent counsel did not officially appoint the lawyers, nor were they appointed locally.

The Southern Illinois Builders Association has new contracts with five crafts but a court order may delay a pact with the laborers' union. A hearing is pending on the Granite City, O'Fallon and East St. Louis locals' challenge of their international union's negotiation of a contract for them.

Leg, knee injuries sidelining Warrior athletes

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It is as if — for that one moment when the bones are crumbled and the cartilage and ligaments are twisted and broken — time stands still. They remember the moment, the specifics. How much time was left. What part of the field the injury occurred. How it happened. It is an agonizing moment. There is the physical pain, yes, but there is also the realization. That is the biggest hurt of all.

For Dennis Gaudreault, Kurt Hyla and Steve Jacobs, their worst realization is they won't be helping their teams to victory this season. The three key athletes in their respective sports — have suffered season-ending injuries.

GAUDREULT, a junior, was the leading scorer on the Warrior soccer team before breaking the tibia and tearing ligaments in his lower right leg in a match last Saturday in Quincy.

A plate and two pins have been implanted to hold the ligaments to the ankle.

Hyla, a 6-2, 165-pounder, was a tri-captain on the Warrior football team. He suffered a three-inch fracture to the tibia of his right leg. There were also torn ligaments. The injury occurred during a blocking drill in a practice shortly before the start of the regular season.

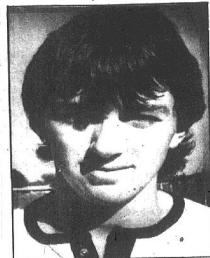

Four screws have been placed inside the leg to keep the bone in place.

HYLA, perhaps, the Warriors' best defensive back. He was also a starter in the offensive backfield.

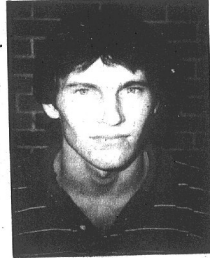

Jacobs, like Hyla, was also being counted on to boost the fortunes of the Warrior football team. At 5-11, 180 pounds, Jacobs was the starting fullback.

He was hurt while blocking for a teammate on the opening kickoff of the Warriors' first game of the season. The damage was severe. In Jacobs' words, "One (ligament) was separated completely from the bone. The other was severed in half. The third one looked like a mop."

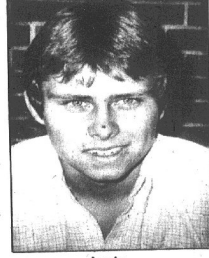

THE THREE are fortunate in some respects. Their injuries are not expected to prevent them from playing competitive sports in the future.

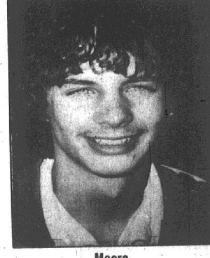

Gaudreault

Hyla

Jacobs

Moore

Gaudreault is expected back scoring goals next season.

Hyla and Jacobs won't be back playing Warrior football, however. The two are seniors. Still, they both have high hopes of playing in other school sports. Hyla said he believes he can begin playing basketball for the Warriors and Christmas.

Jacobs said he plans to try out for the baseball team, although, smiling, he notes that he didn't make the squad last year.

The phone rang in room 7808 of Jewish Hospital in St. Louis Tuesday morning, where Gaudreault was spending his last day as a patient.

He remembered vividly how he got hurt. There were 27 seconds left in the first quarter, he said. He was at midfield, he remembered. He was trying, he said, to pull the ball back with his right foot. In getting ready to slide the ball back, he planted his right foot into the turf. That's when he got hurt.

In Tournament Of Champions Warriors in semifinals

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — When action concluded Wednesday night at the Gauntlet, only four of the 16 teams which began the 1984 Tournament of Champions are still vying for the title.

The Warriors, first-round, 5-1 winners over Hazelwood West Tuesday night, defeated Chaminade 3-1 last night in a second-round action to become one of those four teams to enter Friday's semi-final round. (See related story.) Other teams advancing to Friday's semifinal round include DeSmet, a 5-0 winner over McCluer North; Rosary, a 1-0 winner over Vianney, and St. Louis University High, a 2-1 victor over Christian Brothers College.

GRANITE CITY, now 7-2-3, will meet the SLUH Junior Billikens Friday at 9 p.m., following the Rosary and DeSmet semifinal game which precedes it at 7 p.m.

With the quarter-final round elimination of Vianney and McCluer North Wednesday, the Warriors are the only team ever to win the tournament that is still vying for the 1984 trophy. Vianney won the first Tournament of Champions in 1981 followed by the Warriors in 1982 and McCluer North last year.

"It's sad to see Vianney and McCluer North, past champions, leave the tourney, but at this point, every team that goes out is a quality team," said Warrior coach Gene Baker.

THE WARRIORS victory over Chaminade Wednesday was more than just another victory for the Warriors. Not only did it keep the Warriors in the tourney, but it also, and more importantly, gives the Warriors another two games this season. Had Granite City lost Wednesday that would have been it, they'd have been eliminated. But since they won, the Warriors can continue towards the title for at least another championship round game, and then even if they should lose Friday, vie for third place.

The victory tonight was a season-maker for us," Baker explained. "This win tonight guarantees at least another two games, against some quality competition. That should help us come playoff time."

THE WARRIORS' immediate opponent, SLUH, is 10-2 after last night's victory over CBC. Led by 30-year coach and 1979 National High School Coach of the Year, Ebbie Dunn, the Junior Billikens are on a hot streak.

With key players returning to the lineup from injuries sustained early in the season, Dunn says his team may be peaking just at the right time.

"We've got a good ball club, a little better than normal for us," Dunn explained Wednesday. "We've got a ball club which has the best talent that we've had in some time, but also, and this is probably our main strength, is our ability to get our opponents to play our kind of game: The short passing game."

"ALLOW US" the short passes and these kids will pick anybody apart," Dunn said.

Rosary, another quarter-final round winner, is led by a coach coming from a different end of the spectrum than Dunn.

The Rebels, under the direction of first-year coach John Mohrmann got a little revenge Wednesday with their 1-0 victory over the Golden Griffins. Making up for an earlier loss this season, the Rebels halted the Griffins even before getting what turned out to be the deciding and

GCCHS upends Cats, Flyers

By JOE THOMPSON

GRANITE CITY — With one kick, Granite City High's Mike Dennis stepped from the ranks of the reserve unit into the role of a hero Wednesday night at the Tournament of Champions Soccer Tournament at the Gauntlet.

What a kick it was! The Warriors' diminutive "midfielder," who only minutes earlier had entered the match, boomed a shot estimated at from 35 to 40 yards away from the goal of the Chaminade Flyers. The ball appeared as if it might clear the top crossbar as it whistled through the air, before dipping neatly under the bar and into the left upper part of the goal.

THE SCORE came with slightly over 13 minutes left to play, snuffing out a Chaminade rally and sealing a 3-1 Warrior victory.

The triumph, coupled with the Warriors' sparkling 5-1 victory over Hazelwood West Tuesday night, sends Granite City into the semifinals of the Champions' Tournament. The Warriors will play St. Louis University High Friday at 9 p.m. The Junior Billikens topped top-ranked CBC 2-1 Wednesday night.

Suffice to say, the 7-2-3 Warriors will enter the match in the company of "ole mo."

That's momentum, Dennis' kick provided that sort of lift.

"MY GOD," said Warrior coach Gene Baker. "A play like that from a kid coming off the bench... It gave the team some adrenalin. It picked them up."

"It was a shot to be proud of," said Baker. "It was a beauty."

"After that goal, everybody got pumped up," said Warrior captain Mike Houston, who sparked Tuesday's victory with a pair of goals and an assist. "We weren't going to lose the game after a goal like that," senior Dennis appeared somewhat unaccustomed to the spotlight. "I just hit it," he said in the locker room afterward. "Just watched it go in."

The best part about it? "After it went in," he said, again somewhat shyly.

LEAVE it to Houston, though, to put a definitive stamp on the shot. Tossing himself off, Houston's voice boomed throughout the locker room, when asked if he had ever scored on a similar shot.

"Never," he said. "That was a dream goal."

Hearing Houston's remark, Dennis shed all bashfulness, and stepped forward to the hero's circle.

A dream goal? "Yeah, I guess you could call it that," he said.

And he grinned.

The Warriors had opened a 2-0 lead on a penalty kick goal by Scott Grote midway into the first quarter and second quarter goal by Adamitis.

Chaminade closed the gap late in the third quarter on a kick by Pat Murphy.

Grote's penalty kick boot was his fourth of the season. He hasn't missed yet.

THE PENALTY kick was set up after a Chaminade defender shoved the Warriors' Dave Baggett in the penalty area, or using Baggett's words, "waxed me from behind."

Grote explained his strategy in simple terms. "I just hit it where the goalie isn't," he said.

Then, however, Grote pointed out that if the ball is placed in the right spot, the keeper is defenseless. Grote's kick was in such a shot, clearing the left post by approximately three inches as it eased into the net.

Warriors Meet Tigers Friday

Yates: No logic in grid games

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Some athletes, particularly the younger ones, are those still learning the anything-can-happen lesson — invoke a theorem, of sorts, into sports. More often their thinking involves logic, the modus ponens variety.

Simply stated: If Collinsville's football team can beat Edwardsville's 21-7, and Granite City's can shut out Collinsville's 21-0, the simple conclusion is that Granite City's grid squad can beat Edwardsville's.

Right? Say those athletes.

Wrong!

SO, SAYS Granite City High School varsity coach Ron Yates. Logical thinking and theorems may count for a lot in the classroom, but when it comes to football, it doesn't mean a whole heckuva lot, Yates warns.

"I've already tried to get the kids to dismiss that thinking," Yates says Wednesday afternoon. "They have a tendency to think that way — logically — but they can't. You can't think that way in football."

Yates' reason for his assessment of the game is not illogical, its just that football has so many variables, one onebit which can change the outcome of a game.

IT'S FOR that reason that Yates is approaching Friday's game with "guarded optimism." His Warriors are 1-3 overall and 1-1 since beginning competition two weeks late, after the teachers' strike. Friday, they square off against Edwardsville at home Friday at 7:30 p.m. they will be looking for their second win of the season in three games.

The Tigers, although 2-2, have actually won one game this season, a 22-8 victory over St. Charles (Mo.) Central in the second week of the season.

Their other victory, against Collinsville in the opening week of the season, was actually a 21-7 loss, but because the Kahoks used two inept players, the Tigers were awarded a victory.

MORE recently, in the Tigers' last two games, they've come up on the short end, losing to O'Fallon 7-0 and then last Friday to Alton 27-16.

As for Granite City, Yates makes no quibbles about the Warriors' schedule and the effect the strike has had on it. As far as he's concerned, Granite City's season began last week against the Kahoks.

"We lost the first two games of the season because of the strike," Yates said. "We didn't even take to the field in those games. Then, East Side was, as far as I'm concerned, a scrimmage. I feel like we've begun our season last Friday."

IN preparation for Friday's matchup with Edwardsville, the Warriors aren't going to mess with success. Basically, says Yates, they're going to continue doing the things that garnered last week's win over Collinsville, but with modifications. According to Yates, the Warriors have been working on cutting off the ends — working to stop the sweeping option play which Edwardsville uses so successfully.

"We're making some changes," Yates said. "But not too many. We don't want to mess too much with a winning combination."

"We have been adapting our defense to compensate for their speed; to stop them from getting to the outside," Yates said.

TO DO that, the Warriors are going to have to concentrate on three major threats: The Spiller brothers, Todd and Terrance "Tank," and Jodie Rogers.

The Spillers, Todd, a senior tailback, and Terrance, a junior fullback, have provided the Tigers with much of their offense this season. Although, Rogers has also been on a roll lately scoring three touchdowns in the last two games.

In addition to practicing to prevent the Tigers' running game to the outside, the Warriors have been working their offense against the famed 52 defense, an old but effective defense which the Tigers use effectively.

"We've been working our offense against some different defenses, particularly the 43 and the 52," Yates said.

"I expect Edwardsville to be generally faster than Collinsville was."

In Soccer Trojans rip Civic-Memorial

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record
MADISON — It was a September when the Madison High Trojan soccer team stood tall — taller than in any other previous September.

Sweet, sweet September. The Trojan kickers rolled up a 4-3-2 record — their first winning September in the history of the program.

Got more news, October's looking good, too.

The Trojans upended Civic-Memorial, 2-1, here Tuesday afternoon. The Trojans racked up their fifth victory despite the absence of two starting players.

MISSING was Kenny Ingram, a bruising defender, who was recovering from an ailing back. Ingram is expected back in the near future.

Also absent was Mark Martinez, probably the Trojans' best player. Martinez was dropped from the team as a disciplinary measure.

What was left Tuesday was a group of rock 'em, sock 'em, never-say-die athletes.

For good measure, add opportunistic and lucky.

Take Jerry Gushleff. Not only was he the Trojan-on-the-spot with a pair of goals, but he was also the smallest player on the field.

As a freshman, Gushleff also was one of the youngest.

He played the role of a veteran when, moments into the match, he took a pass from Brian Brown and calmly sent it past keeper Chris Todd.

With less than five minutes to play in the contest, the score knotted 1-1 after a goal a few minutes earlier by Bethalto's Jeff Cutler. Gushleff again went to work. Taking a pass from Shawn Moseby, who got the ball from Deloy Williams, Gushleff sliced between two, thrust, four into the net. It was the winning goal.

GUSHLEFF may be young, but it's easy to see he's played the game before. Asked if this was his first two goal game, Gushleff replied, "You mean, for this team?"

The Trojans goalkeeper is Patrick Glasper. He was both good and lucky against Bethalto, whose record dropped to 1-8.

In the second quarter, Bethalto's Cutler broke loose for a clean breakaway. His shot — a rocket — struck the top crossbar. No goal.

Midway in the fourth quarter, Bethalto's Tony Adams booted a shot off a free kick that looked like a certain goal. With a desperate leap, Glasper managed to get a hand on the ball, directing it against the top of the bar. That was the good part.

THE BALL dropped directly in front of the goal where a host of Bethalto players waited. Billy Womble's shot, however, went directly to Glasper. Gene Briggs, the vibrant Trojan coach, was beside himself on the sideline. "I call it the luckiest save I've ever seen in my life," he said.

"They had five gold shirts (color of the Bethalto jerseys) in front of an open net and they kick it right at the goalie."

"Yeah, he (Gasper) was lucky, really lucky," kidded Deloy Williams. The remark stirred Glasper, who reminded Williams of his shortcomings.

WILLIAMS possesses a thundering kick, but all his boots Tuesday were far off target. Except one. Williams kicked it from midfield, minus his shoe and against a stiff breeze, all the way to the Bethalto net.

"The goalie got that one," said Williams with a grin.

Glasper wasn't angry for long. "With the offense and defense I've got, I don't have to worry about anything," he said.

There were other Trojans whose efforts left a mark. Delaren Young took a shot to the chops from the soccer ball booted by a teammate who was attempting to clear it. The blow staggered Williams. After a breather and an ice pack treatment, he begged to go back in the match.

"IT HURT, but it didn't hurt long," he said.

The hustle award went to William Franklin. A senior, this is the first year he's played soccer. Tuesday was his first starting assignment.

What he lacked in experience, he made up in sheer determination, making several charges up and down the field.

The team would not be complete without mention of some others, including James Isaac, William Blakely, Brown, Roger Kullum and Clarence Williams.

THE TROJANS were consistent, said Briggs.

"Consistently good."

"A good team effort, a good team effort," Baker told his charges. The Trojans never have had a winning season, said Briggs.

They've already won the battle of September. October will likely be more difficult, but less critical.

"October will tell the story," said Briggs.

At Fairmount Park Local groceryman's horse is Two-Year-Old-of-the-Year

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

Dancer Odey, a horse owned by Granite City groceryman, Merwyn Sher, of Cohen's Market, has been named the "Two-Year-Old-of-the-Year" at the Fairmount Park race track. It has been announced.

Sher, who started in racing 15 years ago, in the fall of 1969, when a friend asked him if he'd buy one-half interest in a horse for $500.

"And, since I had always liked to see the horses run, I immediately fell in love with the sport. I ran that first horse five times and, now I tell the story of how proud I was when he finally finished fifth in a race."

Course, I rarely explained that it was a six-horse race," Sher said.

The following year, 1970, Sher ran that same horse 23 times and he racked up five wins, eight seconds and five thirds. And the same year, he bought Pole Paser, a horse that Sher says now, "Was one of the best three-year-olds that season at both Fairmount Park and Cahokia Downs."

"I was completely wrapped up in racing by that time," Sher explains, adding, "I'm a very competitive guy. When I do something, I like to do my very best."

Now, 15 years later Sher has 20 horses headed by Dancer Odey. They're boarded down close to Lexington, Ky., at Adena Hills Farm at Mt. Sterling, Ky. "I have three brood mares, three babies, two yearlings and 12 other horses of racing age."

Dancer Odey's most prestigious recent outing was at Chicago's Arlington Park Sept. 9, when he captured the Chief Illiniwek Stakes. A $40,000-added event, with jockey Geary Louviere up. He ran the seven furlongs in 1:25.1. Magic North finished second and Harham's Scoop came in third.

Dancer Odey's $40,000 purse at Arlington brought his year's earnings to $46,396.

For the current campaign, Dancer Odey has started eight times. He won four times, took second twice and had one third place finish.

When Sher listed Dancer Odey's record, he appeared to wince when he gave the second-place finishes. He was asked why.

"That second place finish took place just two Sundays ago, Sept. 23, at Fairmount Park and he was edged out by half a head by a horse, Red Cloud, who he had beaten in the Chief Illiniwek Stakes two weeks ago by 20 1/4 lengths."

Sher was asked if Dancer Odey, who will be old enough to qualify for the 1985 Kentucky Derby, would be ready to enter in that race.

"Well, it's really out of my hands," shrugged Sher. "Candidates for the Run for the Roses are decided by the amount of money they have won. Right now, Dancer Odey is the No. 1 two-year-old in Illinois."

Sher stops short of predicting that his horse could be one of about 20 top three-year-olds to line up for the Kentucky Derby come the first Saturday in May in '85.

Madison battles back to beat Assumption spikers

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — The third time proved to be a charm for the Madison Trojanettes volleyball team.

After losses Monday and Tuesday to Edwardsville and Wood River, the Trojanettes got back on the winning track Wednesday by whipping Assumption in two straight games, 15-6 and 15-13. The two losses in the three-match series were disappointing.

Madison coach Carol Cole, but she said Wednesday's victory helped prove that the girls have what it takes to win.

"They were determined that they weren't going to lose," said Cole. "They came here with a lot of enthusiasm. Even my junior varsity team won."

"ONE OF our board members came by and asked, 'Did we win state?'" There was that much excitement going on."

Cole said the battle between Madison and Assumption has turned into an true rivalry.

Spikers down Alton; fall to West

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — After defeating conference rival Alton in straight games Monday, the Granite City High School girls' volleyball team lost a tough match to another conference foe, Belleville West, Tuesday 15-7, 15-6.

The next night, on Wednesday, the Warriors were again pitted against the Maroons. Like Tuesday's contest, Wednesday's yielded the same outcome, a 3-15 and an 8-15 setback.

In Tuesday's match, a match where Warrior Coach Coach Willy Schulze said passing made the difference between winning and losing, the Warriors again had trouble getting the first hit to the setter.

"I did, and served as well as they did," said Coach Schulze. "Passing is what made the difference. They play such clean pure ball."

"It started out with the boys in basketball and carried over to volleyball," said Cole. "Assumption is always one match they like to win."

The Trojanettes opened their season with a loss to Assumption, 15-10 and 15-13. Cole said the girls knew that had a chance at winning the match, so Wednesday's action at Madison was glorious revenge.

In the second game, the Trojanettes battled back from 7-1 deficit.

"THAT was a team effort in that they all really did work together," said Cole. "We played relaxed and went out there to have a good time. That's when we're at our best."

The Trojanettes didn't have that same attitude in the two previous matches. Against Wood River, Madison's confidence wavered as they lost 15-1 and 15-5. The confidence problem was a carry over from the previous night's action against Edwardsville, which blew past the Trojans 15-2 and 15-1.

"They (Edwardsville) beat us in the Wood River Tournament 15-0 and 15-0," said Cole. "The same girl for Edwardsville served all 30 points."

THE GIRLS were psyched out Monday. After the match, they joked around that they scored more points than the first time. But they said they knew that didn't play like they were supposed to."

Memories of Monday's tough loss haunted Tuesday's first game, a 15-1 loss to Wood River. But Cole said the girls came back to life in the second game, despite a 15-5 loss.

"They looked flat in the first game," said Cole. "But the second game, they got into it. They found out they were capable of competing with this team."

WITH THE win over Assumption, Madison stands at 4-7.

"We're playing better all the time," said Cole. "The problem is that so is everybody else."

The Trojanettes will again face a three-day workout next week beginning Tuesday as they travel to Alton-Marquette, East St. Louis Lincoln and Alton.

The Warriors' next match will be tonight when they travel to Wood River to take on the Oilers in a 6:30 contest.

THE WARRIORS, now 3-8 on the season, will also be competing in the Collinsville Invitational Tournament this Saturday at the Vergil Fletcher Gymnasium.

The four-team round-robin tournament will feature such state powerhouses as Quincy Senior High and Carbondale as well as the local teams from Collinsville and Granite City. The Quincy Blue Devils have lost just one game this season while the Carbondale Terriers are undefeated.

The tournament is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m.

GRANITE CITY CENTER ATHLETE of the WEEK

JIM DOYLE

THIS AWARD SPONSORED BY
PEPSI-COLA

Jim was named the Granite City Center Athlete of the Week for September 24-30. Jim scored one goal, and gave the Stars several scoring opportunities with his offensive maneuvers in games versus the University of Illinois and Lincolnland Community College. The Stars dropped both games, losing in overtime to the Fighting Illini, 2-1.

Doyle is a two-year starter and this year's team captain. The 1983 graduate of Rosary High School in St. Louis played to continue his education and soccer career when he transfers to a four-year university next year.

Red Devilettes down Explorers

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

VENICE — The Venice Red Devilettes upped their record to 7-4 Monday night by avenging an earlier season loss to Alton Marquette. Venice lost a squeaker in the first game 16-14, but finished strong winning the last two games 15-10 and 15-5. "They beat us up there, and we didn't think we should have lost," said Red Devilette coach Clinton Harris. "So, this was kind of a revenge game for us."

In the first game Marquette's Explorers jumped out to a 4-8 lead, but Venice's Chantley Bradley and Rosetta Harmon served the Red Devilettes back into the lead at 11-8.

MARQUETTE went ahead 13-11, and was serving for the game, but Bradley's spike gave the ball back to Venice.

The Red Devilettes tied the score at 14, but the Explorers prevailed 15-14.

After conceding the first game to Marquette, Venice controlled games two and three.

The Red Devilettes scored the first nine points of the second game behind the strong serving of Cassandra White, but the Explorers tallied six of their own before Venice got on the board again.

Venice's Candice Gray and Teresa Petty served for two points each before White served the game winners. "GAME three was all Venice, as the Red Devilettes held Marquette to five points."

Coach Harris called the victory a "team effort," saying that the entire squad played well.

Wednesday night the Red Devilettes were defeated by the highly touted East St. Louis Flyers 15-4 and 15-5.

"They're a real good team. They just outplayed us," said Harris. "They were spiking well and setting well. We just couldn't adjust."

Thursday Venice hosts the St. Paul Vikings. Action starts at 4:30 p.m.

"In a tournament like this one, it's tough for a team to come back after the opposition has scored," Mohrmann said after his Rebels defeated Vianney. "It's to the point now where every team in it is ranked and one early goal can make it difficult to come back; change some strategies and make you do things you normally wouldn't."

Pashoff gets hole-in-one

Christ Pashoff, better known as Venice Township supervisor than a golfer, changed roles last Saturday, Sept. 29, when he stroked a hole-in-one at Arlington Golf Club.

Pashoff, who was teeing off on the 190-yard, eighth hole, used a No. 5 wood in the historic feat.

Pashoff, who says conditions were wet, drizzly and rainy, had Carl Pashoff, Tom Kobbiy and Fred Eaglin along as witnesses.

Park seeks winter refs

The Granite City Park District is accepting applications for anyone interested in officiating basketball, broomball and volleyball games this winter. Applicants must be at least 16 years of age.

Applications may be picked at the Wilson Park Office Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

DeSmet, the final team making it into the semi-final round was devastating in its 5-0 victory over McCluer North.

Spartan Coach Greg Vitello, however, downplayed his team's domination in the game, saying his squad got the breaks early, scored a couple of goals and then McCluer "began to hang its head."

"If you get up a couple of goals on a team, any team, it's easy for them to let down," Vitello said. "That's what happened to McCluer. We got up and then they got down. We're not five goals better than they are," Vitello concluded.

SPEAKING of goals and lopsided games, the Warriors are the current leaders in that category. With a total of eight goals in two games, Granite City leads DeSmet which has registered six goals.

McCluer North and Vianney, both eliminated, and Rosary each have four goals while SLUH and Chaminade both have three.

First-round results include: DeSmet a 1-0 victory over Hazelwood Central; McCluer North, a 4-0 winner over Riverview; Vianney a 4-1 winner over Oakville, and Rosary whipped St. Mary's 3-0 to round out action in the upper bracket.

In the lower bracket, first-round winners were: GCIS 5-1 winners over Hazelwood West; Chaminade 2-1 winners over Hazelwood East; CBC 1-0 winners over Mehlville and SLUH 1-0 winners over Parkway North.

Today, those first-round losers begin consolation play. At 3 p.m. Hazelwood Central will square off against Riverview at 3 p.m. At 5 p.m. Oakville will meet St. Mary's, followed by Hazelwood West squaring off against its sister school Hazelwood East at 7 p.m. Consolation play today will conclude as Mehlville takes on Parkway North at 9 p.m.

Injuries

"It just was," he said.

IT WAS, he told the caller, not only the first time he had been seriously hurt playing soccer, but also the first time he had been in a hospital.

He was operated on Sunday. "They've got it all back to normal," said Gaudreault, who had fainted seven goals before the injury. "So that's what I'm looking forward to."

While lying on the ground moments after the injury, Gaudreault's thoughts weren't about next year. He wasn't even thinking about the considerable pain.

"I was thinking how I couldn't get to play the rest of the year," said Gaudreault.

By his own estimation, Hylla caught "25 to 30" passes last year as a halfback. It was his play in the defensive secondary, however, in which he believes he sparked his brightest. Hylla was hoping to parlay his play in the defensive secondary this year into a college scholarship. His injury certainly puts a damper on that possibility.

Indeed, he remembers intercepting three passes last season.

IT WAS a running back during a blocking drill, however, when he was injured.

Hylla remembers getting tangled up between a blocker and a tackler, and falling with his full weight on his right ankle.

"The first thing I asked the (doctors) after getting out of the operation was," recalls Hylla, "Will I be able to play next year?"

Hylla remains close to the team. He attends practices and sits on the bench during games. He was present during the Warriors' big victory over Collinsville last Friday. It is a bitter-sweet moment watching his teammates perform without him.

"THEY WERE" doing having a good time, and I thought, "Gosh, I wish I was out there with them," said Hylla.

Like Gaudreault and Hylla, Jacobs also expects to come out smelling like a daisy. Although he says he will probably have to wear a brace whenever he plays competitive sports, it won't prevent him from playing. Doctors have assured him he'll be able to play again next year. That's what Jacobs is pointing to.

"I'M STILL going to try to play football," he said. "I still haven't lost hope. I still hope to play."

Jacobs was hurt on the Warriors' opening kickoff against the East St. Louis Flyers — the Warriors' first opponent this season. He was part of a wedge of blockers protecting Dave Tatum, who had fielded the kick.

Jacobs remembers two "big guys" bearing down.

"I hit the first guy. I hit him high," said Jacobs. "I saw the other guy and I swung out my legs trying to trip him. He just ran right through my legs... right through my legs."

"All the sweating, all the praying this summer... then you get hurt on the first play of the first game of the season. You're walking off the field and everybody is looking at you. It makes you feel rotten," said Jacobs.

"Everybody is saying, 'It's alright. It's alright.' But it's not alright."

THERE'S a lot of questions," said Jacobs. "There's a lot of 'what ifs' when you're in the hospital."

"I sat down and cried for awhile," Jacobs said. "But you can't stay down on yourself. You've got to find something else to do. I'm going to concentrate on getting back to where I was. It's better than sitting down, withdrawing from everybody."

IT IS ironic September was the month the Warrior athletic program should be crippled with severe injuries to such key players.

It was about this time last year when another Warrior athlete went down.

Pete Moore was a junior last year when he left his feet to head a ball in a soccer match against Collinsville.

It was during a junior varsity match. After missing early workouts because of an illness, Moore was working hard to regain a position with the varsity.

He might have been a starter this year. Warrior coach Gene Baker will tell you, just like the two brothers who preceded him.

MOORE, however, landed wrong. "I destroyed all the cartilage on the outside of the knee," he said.

When doctors operated, they discovered still more damage — severe wreckage. "They said I could take a chance and play," said Moore. "But any kind of pivot could destroy the rest (of the knee)."

Moore, it turns out, is a key member of this year's squad. Baker will tell you. Only it isn't as a player. Moore has made the decision not to risk hurting his knee further, damaging it to the point he might be crippled the rest of his life.

It was a tough decision. "It really hurt," he says now. "I have two brothers who both play college ball. My whole family is into soccer. We based ourselves around it."

"I help out with the team. I do whatever coach (Baker) wants, whatever he needs," Moore says. "It kind of still makes me feel a part of the team."

Moore has some advice for any who may find themselves in the same position — the spot Gaudreault, Hylla and Jacobs are in now.

"Work with it, don't push it. Just be a part of things," he said.

Setting a long pass from Scott Bision against his chest, Adamitis found himself in front of the Chaminade goal in thick traffic.

HE CAME out the winner. "I was at the right place at the right time," said Adamitis, a sophomore. "It got all congested in there. But I came out with it."

And rifled it into the goal.

The Warriors were fortunate in their two goal lead. One of Chaminade's 15 shots, a thundering kick by Tom Dunne, struck the top crossbar of the Warriors' goal.

Chaminade coach Jim Gerker, who watched his team fall to 7-5-1, lamented the near miss goal but, "They outplayed us I thought for most of the game."

While Granite City may have held the upper hand for most of the match, Murphy's third quarter goal put a decidedly different complexion on matters.

THAT IS, until Dennis launched his "dream" shot.

Grote, for one, took another look back on the shot before stepping out into the darkness outside the locker room.

"He probably won't forget that goal. He hit a bomb," he said.

The "bombs" were flying Tuesday night for the Warriors in their victory over Hazelwood West.

GREG Gobble and Adamitis were awarded assists on Houston's goals. The Warriors were near picture perfect in their victory. They wasted little of their scoring punch, taking just nine shots.

Baker was ecstatic. "That was the best game of the season — by far," he said.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Johnson

Johnson-Sullivan

The wedding of Miss Shirley Thelma Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sullivan, 1716 Ferguson Ave., and Mark Brion Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson, 111 Kroener Drive, Collinsville, was solemnized on Sept. 1 at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Louis Frick performed the 6 o'clock evening service with wedding music furnished by Sherry Jones.

A reception for guests was held at the Polish Hall immediately following the ceremony. The newlywed couple is residing in Granite City after a wedding trip to Lake Barkley, Ky.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her parents.

Miss Linda Sullivan, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor with bridesmaids, Mrs. Brenda Reiter, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. Joyce Sullivan, the bride's sister-in-law.

Cassia Johnson, daughter of the groom, as the flower girl.

The groom chose his brother,

Spencer Johnson, as best man. Tyler and Alan Johnson, brothers of the groom, and Mark Johnson Jr., the groom's son, served as groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Allan and Darrell Sullivan, brothers of the bride, Laura and Krista Sullivan, nieces of the bride, were candlelighters, Linda Smith of Loveland, Colo., presided over the guest book, and Tara and Amanda Smith, also of Loveland, distributed rice packets.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride also graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1970, where she received a B.S. degree in elementary education. She is a kindergarten teacher at Frohardt School.

The groom graduated from Collinsville High School in 1970 and from SIUE in 1981 with B.S. and M.S. degrees in economics. Presently he is a doctoral student in economics at St. Louis University and is employed as a staff manager-forecasting for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. He also served in the U.S. Air Force from 1973 until 1978.

Mr. and Mrs. James Godair

Godair-Toney

Miss Donna Kay Toney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Toney, 2237 Ohio Ave., and James Edward Godair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Godair, 1509 Market St., Madison, were united in marriage on Aug. 25 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

The Rev. James Parks officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony and nuptial music was provided by Don Stratton, at the piano. Don and Linda Stratton sang several selections.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her attendants included Mrs. Patty Hayes, a sister of the bride, as matron of honor and Yvette Hancock, Lisa Parker, Becky Reeves, and Korie Cox, a cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids. Rodney Hayes, a brother-in-law of the bride, served the groom as best man. Tony Godair, a brother of the groom, Dave McCallister, and Rob Webb, were groomsmen.

Darwin Toney, brother of the bride, and Mark Parker served as ushers and candlelighters. Jonathan Godair, the groom's nephew, was the ring bearer.

A reception for guests was held at the Moose Lodge after the religious service.

The former Miss Toney attended Granite City High School South, and her husband graduated in 1980 from Madison High School. He is employed at Prairie Farms Dairy. They are residing in Granite City.

Mrs. Edward Elcher

Second child arrives for Mr. and Mrs. Jolly

Mr. and Mrs. Everett (Delores) Jolly, 2035 Dewey Ave., became the parents of their second child, a boy, on Sept. 27, at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryland.

The infant weighed 8 pounds, 3 ounces, and has been named Brent Daniel. He has a 14-month old brother, Brandon Michael.

Grandparents are Mrs. Delores Jolly and Mrs. Evelyn Kay Leverton, both of Granite City, and Sam Jolly of St. Louis.

Mrs. Ryan entertains the Butterfly Club

Mrs. Edith Ryan was hostess to the Butterfly Club last week, and served refreshments after the evening of games.

Those winning prizes were Hazel Rollins, first and honors, Ilene Willis, Thelma Schmidt and Lorraine McIlroy. Others attending were Harriet Hoff, Nell Talley, Katie Hommert, Mary Lou Clausen and Junia Rosenberg. Mrs. Clausen will host the next gathering, it was announced.

Eicher-Houser

Miss Leslie Ellen Houser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Houser, 29 Bermuda Lane, became the bride of Edward Dungan Eicher, of St. Louis, on Sept. 1, at Central Presbyterian Church in Clayton, Mo.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eicher reside in Alexandria, Va.

The Rev. Don Fortson officiated at the 6:30 p.m. ceremony. Preceding the service nuptial selections, Pachelbel's Canon, Clark's Trumpet Voluntary, Wedding Procession from the Sound of Music, Jesu, Joy of Man's Desire, and the recessional, Water Music by Handel, was provided by Phil Rowland at the organ. Sarah Shankland, soloist, sang The Lord's Prayer.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted on the Robert E. Lee Restaurant in St. Louis, by the groom parents, on the night before the wedding.

Guests were received at a reception at the Sheraton at Convention Plaza immediately following the ceremony.

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Eicher are residing in Chicago, following a wedding trip to San Francisco, Calif.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Lori Houser and bridesmaids included, Marianne Milton, Mary Chambliss, Cynthia Simon and Lenor Eicher, a sister of the groom.

The groom chose his brother, Len Eicher as best man, Bob Bentz and Jay Brodman, brothers-in-law of the groom, Mark Simon, Tony Ettimoff, a cousin of the bride, Jeffrey Criley and Rob Ballew, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A 1977 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride also graduated from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1981. She earned an A.A.S. and B.S. in business administration, public relations and is employed as an account executive for Drucilla Handy Public Relations.

The groom was graduated in 1977 from Archbishop Curley High School in Miami, Fla., and from Florida State University in 1981 where he earned a degree in business administration. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity and works as a international sales manager for Sheraton Corp. in St. Louis.

1935 GC grads set 50th anniversary

The Granite City High School Class of January 1935 is planning a 50th anniversary reunion to be held May 18, 1985, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Addresses of the following class members are being sought and anyone with information about them are asked to call Mary Mosby Hanfelder at 797-0249 or Evelyn Habekost Fuller at 876-2006. Addresses are needed for Betty Taylor, Ellis Cook, Mary Wiggins, William Ayers, Viola Theis, Art Hattersley.

1 Corinthians 3:11 "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." We can be very thankful to God that He has made Christ the foundation of our faith. There is none other name given under Heaven, whereby men must be saved, but the name of Jesus. Christ said himself, "I am the way, the truth, and the life, and no man can come to the Father but by me." There has been and will continue to be great men of God. Their labors for God have changed the world. We honor them, acknowledge them, build monuments to them. This is good, it is proper. However, let us not forget that all our heroes of faith have had the same foundation, Jesus Christ. All great men of faith owe their greatness to their Savior and Lord.

Paul the Apostle said, "We preach Christ crucified." Make Christ the foundation of your life. Today.

Son-Life Christian School hires six new teachers

Son-Life Christian School, Collinsville, announces the hiring of six new teachers for the 1984-85 school year.

Mrs. Judith Roederheimer is teaching first grade this year. She graduated from Belleville East High School and received her BS degree from SIU-Edwardsville. She graduated with honors and is a member of the educational honors society, Kappa Delta Pi. She taught at the Tree Hut Child Care Center in Belleville before joining the staff at Son-Life.

Mrs. Teresa Powers is teaching English I and II and Basic Science as well as a creative Writing-Journalism class on the secondary level. She also serves as a homeroom teacher and teaches a Bible class. She graduated from Roosevelt High School in Missouri and received her degree from Missouri Baptist University in St. Louis. She worked as a teacher's aide for kindergarten at Bernard Elementary School in Mehlville, Mo. doing private tutoring.

Susan Hollman is teaching typing in the secondary department. She graduated Magna Cum Laude from Wayne State University in Wayne, Neb., with a bachelor of arts in education degree with a business major.

Mrs. Dorothy Koelling will teach Latin I and II at the school. Mrs. Koelling taught Latin in the Collinsville School system for 24 years.

Greg Hamilton is teaching math on the secondary level and music on both the elementary and secondary level. He graduated from high school in the Bay Area in California, and received his degree from SIU-Edwardsville in June of this year. He has a bachelor of music education.

Todd Opperman teaches third and fourth grade in the elementary department. He graduated from Belleville East High School and from Eastern Illinois University in August 1982. Before joining the teaching staff at Son-Life, he was employed as the Community Center Director for the Salvation Army in St. Louis, and was a substitute teacher at Grant Elementary and Junior High School in Fairview Heights.

Mrs. Norma Rains presents lesson

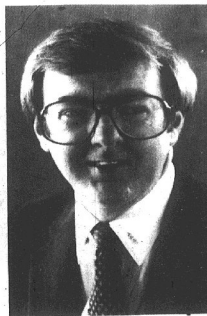

Mrs. Norma Rains presented a lesson taken from the book, "The Positive Family" by Arvella Schuller, at the September meeting of the Every Member Busy Circle of Namekiki United Methodist Church. Members met in the home of Mrs. Pat Bernalis with Mrs. Rains presiding. Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Dorothy Luckert. Mrs. Alta Stewart gave the treasurer's report and the minutes of the previous meeting were read.

A slate of officers for the 1985 season will be selected at the Oct. 23 meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. Luckert, the president noted. Mrs. Luan Briner will present the lesson.

Mrs. Rains also announced the annual Autumn Fest will be conducted at the church on Oct. 27, featuring a variety of holiday items.

Closing prayer was given by Mrs. Virginia Carroll followed by refreshments served to those named and to Betty May, Betty Weston, Alma Cowan, Corrine Dawson, Helene Bischoff, Norma Riden, Luan Briner and a guest, Aline Patterson.

REV. ALLEN FARABEE

St. Bartholomew's welcomes rector

The Rev. Allen W. Farabee has been appointed as interim priest in charge of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church in Granite City, a native of Florida and graduate of Indiana University School of Music and Yale Divinity School. Father Farabee served most recently as rector of St. Paul's Church in Alton. During the past year he has studied in the graduate business school at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Rev. Farabee is married with two children. In addition to his work at St. Bartholomew's he pursues active interests in music and swimming. He has sung for three years with the St. Louis Symphony Chorus, appearing with the chorus in New York's Carnegie Hall in March, 1984. He also swims with the St. Louis Master's Swim Team.

Beginning on Oct. 7, Rev. Farabee announced, the Sunday Eucharist will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. at St. Bartholomew's Church, located at 22nd Street and Grand Avenue. All are invited to attend. Present and former members of the parish are especially invited to be present to welcome Rev. Farabee, according to a church spokesman.

CHURCH MONEY RECOVERED

Father Frank Kordek of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, 1613 Tenth St., Madison, told police earlier this week that some additional envelopes and checks have been recovered from the burglary that occurred at the church Sept. 16. Father Kordek said $70 in checks and empty envelopes which had contained $170 were recovered in some weeds in the 1500 block of 12th St., Madison. The church had recovered $171 earlier from the theft.

St. Elizabeth's bazaar set Nov. 3

A progress report on the annual Christmas bazaar, sponsored by the Ladies Sodality of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, was presented at the monthly meeting conducted in the school cafeteria.

The annual holiday event is scheduled for Nov. 3 from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. and will feature a large inventory of Christmas decorations and handcrafted gifts. Also announced was the classes on the New Testament being held each Thursday night with Dr. Irvin Arki, theologian from St. Louis University as the guest speaker. Cost of each session is set at $1 per person, the president announced.

A continuing fund raising project is a fish fry on the first Friday of each month. The next one will be this Friday, Oct. 5, and serving will be from 4:30 to 7 p.m. The November date has been changed to the second Friday, Nov. 9, due to the bazaar date.

Prizes for the evening were awarded to Helen Mowry who received the madonna, Beula Onk the quilt of the month and Marsha Chomko won the attendance prize.

Missionaries to South Africa to speak at Central Methodist

The Rev. David Hill, missionary to South Africa, will speak at the Central Free Methodist Church, 4150 South and Lake streets, on Oct. 7 at 10:30 a.m., the Rev. Robert Kirkham, host minister announces.

Rev. Hill began his missionary career with the Free Methodist Church in the province of Transvaal, South Africa, in 1974. Following a year of Zulu language study, he taught in an extension Bible school program sponsored by the Transvaal Annual Conference. This training program, designed for both pastors and lay workers, is offered at 18 training centers. Classes are held in homes and local churches, with more than 60 students enrolled. Rev. Hill also served as assistant superintendent in the Witbank district.

The need for Christian literature in the Zulu language was also a priority with the minister. He served as a mission literature director and chairman of the conference literature committee, and worked with a cooperative evangelical mission committee overseeing production of Theological Education by Extension texts in Zulu.

Mrs. Peggy Hill, who was born and raised in Zimbabwe, Africa, assisted with conference women's work and served as missionary advisor for two years. She also organized and directed the childcare program and served as director and treasurer of literature distribution.

Rev. and Mrs. Hill were graduated from Greenville College. He holds a Master of Divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., and served as a pastor in the Southern California-Arizona Conference of the Free Methodist Church before going to South Africa.

They have two school-age children: Brandon and Amanda.

The public is invited to hear this missionary presentation, Rev. Kirkham added.

Concert artist to perform at GC church

Dr. June Kean, a celebrated organist will be in concert at First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, on Sunday, Oct. 7 at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Kean, professor of music at Evangel College in Springfield, Mo., holds a Doctor of Musical Arts in organ performance from North Texas State University. She received her Bachelor of Music from Oklahoma City University and a Master of Music degree in piano performance from Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

This past summer Dr. Kean performed concerts on historic organs in Austria. In 1980, she performed a series of concerts in Argentina where she was sponsored by the University of Buenos Aires, and in 1979, she attended Stichting International Orgelconcours in Haarlem, The Netherlands.

Dr. Kean teaches to individual organ students. Many of her students have won local and national awards and in 1982, one of Dr. Kean's students won first place in organ in the National Competition of the Music Teachers' National Association.

Her professional affiliations include Pi Kappa Lambda, American Guild of Organists, Piano Forum and the Music Teachers' National Association.

Everyone is invited to attend, and there will be no admission charge, Rev. C. Dale Edwards, host pastor said.

DR. JUNE KEAN

Day of Renewal at Our Lady of Snows

The Victim Missionaries at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will celebrate its Day of Renewal, Saturday, Oct. 6, in the Dr. Tom Dooley Center beginning at 10:30 a.m.

A spiritual movement by and for people with handicaps and others who are chronically ill, conduct a monthly Day of Renewal on the first Saturday of each month.

The Rev. Bob Elmer, OMI, assistant director of the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, will be the principal celebrant. The theme for the day is "Blessed are they who show mercy."

The Victim Missionaries also provide an interpreter for the deaf for all their activities, including weekend retreats.

Anyone interested in joining the Victim Missionaries or becoming a volunteer can contact Korky Buhr at the Shrine, 397-6700.

REV. HAROLD MAYNARD
Minister marks
25th anniversary

The Rev. Harold Maynard, pastor of Calvary Pentecostal Assembly, celebrated his 25th year at the church on Sept. 30, 1984. The surprise affair was marked by a "Tribute Service" Sunday morning, a fellowship dinner, an afternoon "look at the past" and the day was finalized by an evening jubilee.

The Rev. Braumel Richey and his family, from Blanchard, Okla., were the special guests of the day. The Richey family provided special singing and Rev. Richey challenged the pastor and the congregation with his message. Many ministers, relatives and friends joined the congregation in honoring Pastor Maynard.

Rev. Maynard came to Granite City in 1959 when he assumed the pastorate at Pentecostal Assembly located at 24th Street and Bromley Avenue. Since that time the church has built three times at the present location, 4650 Maryville Road. All of the building has been under the direction of Pastor Maynard.

In the morning tribute service, Pastor Maynard remarked, "I am thankful for the progress that has been made in the past twenty five years, but He has much more in store for us."

Country Fair and Auction scheduled

The Troy Christian Women's Club annual Country Fair and Auction, and special two-hour luncheon will be held at Randy's Restaurant in Troy on Tuesday, Oct. 9 at 12 noon. "Country Store" will be filled with needwork, craft items, food specialties, etc., with selling starting at 11:30.

Special music will be presented by Marie Quinlan, a soloist and organist from Collinsville.

Mrs. Claudia Belsley from Metamora, Ill., will be the guest inspirational speaker.

A free nursery for the preschoolers will be provided at the Quality Inn motel located right next door to Randy's Restaurant.

Reservations for the luncheon and nursery are essential and can be made by calling Beverly 667-2239 or Doris 666-3452 by noon Friday, Oct. 5.

Madison First Baptist to host week long revival

The congregation of the First Baptist Church of Madison is making preparations for the church's coming revival services, Oct. 7 through 14. The Rev. Joe Don Smith, pastor, will be the evangelist for the week of meetings, at 7:30 p.m., each day. Rev. Smith received his college and seminary education in the state of Texas. His longest pastorate has been at the Holly Grove Baptist Church, Coater, Mo., where he has served for 19 years. During that time he has had a radio ministry and preached 150 revivals.

Committees were formed to make preparations for the coming revival. The Prayer Committee is being led by Mrs. Betty Caple and Mrs. Treva Williams. They have made arrangements for several cottage prayer meetings in the homes of members.

In addition there will be a 3-hour prayer vigil scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Members and friends will come to the church for 15 minute periods of unbroken prayer and meditation. The prospect and visitation committee is being headed by Naomi James. They are securing visitors to go out and make calls in the Madison area.

The attendance and promotion committee is headed by Mrs. Betty Barr. Her committee has set up a different emphasis for each night of the revival as follows: Sunday, "Bring Four or More" night; Monday, "Sunday School Class Night"; Tuesday, "Bring Your Neighbor" night; Wednesday, "Hostess and Jr. Hostess Night"; Thursday, "Sunday School Teachers vs. Deacons-Trustees-Users"; Friday and Saturday, "Pack-A-Pow Night"; Sunday, "Fill The Cross" and a basket dinner at noon. Three telephone committees are being led by Mrs. Ann Redman. Members of the committee will be calling persons about the meetings. Arrangements have been made to provide supervised nursery care for all infants and pre-school children. This service will be available each night of the revival under the direction of Mrs. Marie Lassen.

The transportation committee is led by Dave Jackson, and those in need of transportation are asked to call Dave at 931-4675.

There will be special music provided nightly. The singing will be under the direction of Bob Nepute, music director for the Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church, Collinsville and music each night by Myra Gaines.

Other committees who are making preparations for, or will be of service during the revival, are: publicity committee headed by L. D. Williams; mailing committee led by Mrs. Monna Jackson; kitchen committee by Mrs. Marie Lassen; and the usher committee headed by Gene Williams, the host pastor announces.

Hope Lutheran Church announces fall festival

Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., will host its 11th annual Fall Festival on Sunday, Oct. 7, on the church grounds, the Rev. David Fielding announces.

Barbecue dinners will be served from 3 to 6 p.m. featuring pork steaks and grilled chicken and other food items prepared by volunteer church members. Tickets costing $3.25 for adults and $1.75 for children will be available at the door on the day of the event.

Games and pony rides are scheduled on the church lawns from 3 to 4 p.m. and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a magic show performed by Larry Melvin immediately following at 6 p.m. a performance by the "King's Kids" of Granite City will be presented.

Members, friends of the parish and the public are invited to attend the dinner and other activities, Rev. Fielding added.

The steering committee planning the event includes Larry Kessler, Jim Massey and Jeff Underwood.

Nameoki Presbyterian to mark world wide communion

"We are looking forward to a wonderful experience of celebrating the merger of what was formerly known as the 'southern' and 'northern' Presbyterian churches this Sunday afternoon," stated the Rev. Don F. Pierson of the Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

"Banners, bagpipes, choirs, trumpets and an appropriate worship service will mark this historic occasion," at Kiel Opera House, St. Louis, he added.

Members of the Nameoki Presbyterian Church will meet in the church parking lot at 3:45 p.m. to form a car pool and will leave promptly at 4 p.m. for the service slated to begin at 5 p.m. and end at 7 p.m.

Olga McMurry, Dorothy Melvin, Marion Pierson, Edna Cease, Carla Voyles and Nona Corzilius have been working on a banner that will be carried in the Celebration of Unity event. The banner will be presented to the congregation this Sunday by Ryan Hankins who also assisted in its construction.

"Christians and Crisis" will be the theme of the World Wide Communion Sunday message. The service will begin at 10:15 a.m. Lori Diak, daughter of Steve and Marylis Diak; Amy Aud, daughter of Kenneth and Linda Aud; and James Harris, son of John and Shirley Kowalk, will be publicly received into the membership of the service congregation during the service. The Peace-Making Offering will also mark the event.

"We are providing Christians with the possibility of developing a growing edge to their Christian experience in a more positive method of relationship," explained Pastor Pierson. This will be provided in the 9 a.m. coffee hour and Bible study. "We have a new series of studies that should have wide popular appeal," the pastor added.

The Nameoki Presbyterian Church is located at 1700 Pontoon Road.

Three former students are hired as teachers at BAC

Belleville area College doesn't have to look far to find qualified part-time teachers for its business courses. BAC can turn to its own successful graduates.

Three former students have returned to BAC this fall, this time, as teachers in the business program. Steve Wittenauer, Charles Glover and Sally Thorburg have come back to BAC to teach.

WITTENAUER is a 1977 graduate of BAC. After graduating from the community college, he went on to receive his bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and his MBA from St. Louis University. He also passed his Certified Public Accountant examination.

He works for the accounting firm of Rubin, Brown and Gorenstein in Clayton, Mo., and lives in Belleville. "Teaching is just something I always wanted to do," he said. "So I contacted Art Parrish (Associate Dean of Business/Math/Speech and Foreign Languages)."

WITTENAUER is teaching Fundamentals of Business at BAC's Scott Air Force Base extension center.

The course gives an overview of the business world. Wittenauer said it covers a little of everything including marketing, economics, accounting, computers, international trade and finance. "I touch on subjects lightly so students can decide on what avenue they wish to pursue or what direction to take and then they can go on and take more classes on that subject," he said. "So far, everything has gone great, real smooth."

Most of his students are from the base. Wittenauer said that makes his job easier. "Lots of the students are older and that makes them more open than recent high school graduates," he said. "These people have all been in the work force so they have more experiences."

"I DON'T JUST lecture. I'll lecture for a while and then throw things out for discussion. Then I'll lecture some more and throw things out again. When they can relate things to their jobs, they learn a lot faster."

When the opportunity to teach came to Charles Glover this fall, he was ready for it. "I had passed my CPA exam and was thinking that I would like to teach," he said. "I was thinking of calling but I didn't think I would be teaching this semester."

Then one Monday, Art Parrish called me up and said a teacher had dropped out and he needed a teacher beginning that Thursday."

GLOVER, a 1981 graduate of BAC, received his accounting degree from SIUE and passed his CPA exam in May. He is an auditor with Defense Contract Audit Agency at McDonnell Douglas. This fall semester, he is teaching a Fundamentals of Accounting II class at BAC.

"Art gave me an instructor's syllabus," he said. "I also called up a full-time teacher and asked him for advice and got some pointers."

"It's definitely different to be on the other side of the desk."

Glover said holding a full-time job is useful in his teaching. "The advantage to being a part-time teacher is that you have real life experiences you can inflict on your students," he said.

PARRISH AGREED the teacher's work experiences are a valuable asset in the classroom. "Being former BAC students like to be a community-college student in the evening whose trying to hold down a job," he said. "They have the proper academic backgrounds to teach their courses and they bring back to their students job-related experiences they've had."

Sally Thorburg, a 1980 graduate of BAC who went on to graduate from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, finds teaching a beginning accounting class at BAC's Cahokia extension center helps her.

"It's been so long since I've reviewed the basics," she said. "I think the class has really helped me. And I haven't been out of school long enough to be out of touch with the students."

Illinois College launches homecoming activities

Illinois College launches homecoming activities Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. with a music concert honoring Dr. and Mrs. A.C. Hart. Dr. Hart is a trustee emeritus of the college and he and his wife, both IC graduates, will be guests at a reception in Barnes House after the concert.

Oct. 11 will open with a 10 a.m. convocation in Memorial Gymnasium with the theme of the 1984 homecoming "Music on a Winning Note."

ALUMNI and friends of the college are invited to the convocation—as they are to most of the weekend events. The homecoming queen and court will be revealed and the Blueboy football team will be introduced.

Homecoming queen candidates will be selected in a campus-wide election Wednesday and Thursday. Only junior women are eligible. Last year's queen was Cynthia Lashmet of Jacksonville.

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 12 and 13, are full of things to do as alumni return to the Illinois College campus which is marking its 150th birthday year.

THE MOST PUBLIC event will be the parade through downtown Jacksonville starting from College Hill at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, and the football game against Coe College of Cedar Rapids, Ia. at 1:30 p.m.

The parade will be a lively one with nine high school and junior high school bands from the area appearing along with the Illinois College musicians. Competing for "best band" in the large, small and junior high school categories will be bands from Jacksonville High, Chatham Glenwood, Winchester, Easton, Beardstown, New Berlin, Greenfield, Chatham Junior High and Perry.

ween the freshmen and sophomore men is at 3:30 p.m. on the intramural field.

The Homecoming Follies are at 7 p.m. in Rammelkamp Chapel, followed by the bonfire and pep rally at 8:30 p.m. at England Field. A student and alumni mixer is scheduled for 9 p.m. in Baxter Lounge. A jazz band will provide the musical entertainment. A Century Club breakfast in Baxter Hall at 8:15 a.m. begins Saturday's events. Alumni directors meet in Tanner Hall at 8:30 a.m.

FOLLOWING THE parade and football game, refreshments will be served on the lawn of the Caine Student Center. This is sponsored by the alumni and the public is invited.

Literary societies' Cozies will be held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Reunions will begin at 6 p.m. and the formal homecoming dance begins at 9 p.m. at the new American Legion Building.

Mature student workshop is set

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a one-day workshop Friday, Oct. 5, for people who would like to return to college for professional development or change career directions, as well as those who would like to enroll in college-level classes for the first time.

The workshop is scheduled in the International Room of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. The workshop is free, and the public is invited to attend.

PARTICIPANTS MAY either bring sack lunches or utilize the university cafeteria. Parking will be free in the visitors' lot.

Interest will be centered on the needs of the person who has never been to college, as well as those who have been out of school for a number of years, Patricia North, academic counselor in the Office of Academic Services, said.

The workshop should be of special interest to men and women who wish to advance in their present career fields but who must continue to work while going to school, Miss North said. The topics to be covered during the sessions will also be of value to the woman who must supplement the family income but feels she has no marketable skills, she said.

REPRESENTATIVES from the various academic and student service areas will be available to answer questions that adult learners may have about returning to college. Special attention will be given to current job market trends, Miss North said.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Miss North in the SIUE Office of Academic Services by calling 1-692-3701.

Parents Weekend slated at SLU

Parents of St. Louis University students are invited to take an "inside view" of the university during the 1984 Parents Weekend held Oct. 6 and 7.

Local and out-of-town parents are invited to take part in this annual event which includes activities for all three university campuses.

ACTIVITIES BEGIN Saturday, with registration at 10 a.m. in the main lobby of Busch Memorial Center, 20 N. Grand Blvd. at Laclede Avenue. Following registration will be sophomore capping and senior banding ceremonies for nursing students at St. Francis Xavier (Upper) College Church.

During the afternoon, tours of Grant's Farm and Parks College will be given. An evening hospitality hour, where parents meet administrators and faculty will take place in Aunt Hatty's of Busch Center.

A dinner dance featuring music by the Johnny Polzin Orchestra will be held at 7 p.m. in the St. Louis Room of Busch Center. Junior pitching and senior pinning ceremonies for physical therapy students will take place at 8 p.m. in St. Francis Xavier College Church.

SUNDAY'S EVENTS begin with Concelebrated Mass at 9 a.m. in St. Francis Xavier (Upper) College Church. Breakfast will follow in the St. Louis Room of Busch Center. Rev. Thomas R. Fitzgerald, S.J., president of the university, will be the speaker.

At noon, tours of the School of Business and Administration and School of Nursing will be conducted. Advanced reservations are required for the dinner dance and breakfast. Many of the other activities also require reservations which can be made by calling 1-314-658-2250.

SIUE slates marketing seminar

The Center of Management Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a seminar Oct. 9 and 10 in the St. Louis area on marketing management.

The two-day seminar is scheduled at the Henry VIII Inn and Lodge, located at 4650 N. Lindbergh Blvd. in St. Louis. Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each day.

INSTRUCTOR FOR the seminar will be Raymond LaGarde, chairman of the department of marketing at SIUE.

Coursework will include techniques for analyzing marketing opportunities, spotting market segments, developing marketing plans and budgets, formulating new product development strategies, using the product Life Cycle to extend product's life, positioning products against competitors and auditing marketing programs.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting James F. Miller, Jr., director of the SIUE Center for Management Studies, by calling 1-692-2668.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a husband and wife decide to make a will, they have a choice of putting all the provisions in one will or each having their own will. When a husband and wife put everything in one document and leave everything to each other, this is called a joint and mutual will. An example will help illustrate this situation.

Let's assume a couple makes a joint and mutual will which leaves everything to the surviving spouse when the first one dies. It also provides that upon the death of the second one, all the property is to pass to their one child. In this situation, the wife dies first and according to the provisions in the will, all her property passes to her husband. The husband then remarries. Can he make a new will and leave everything to his new wife or is he bound by the original promise to pass his property on to his child?

The ability of the survivor to change the will after the death of the first spouse definitely depends on the type of will. The best way to insure that the will provisions change in for a husband and wife to make a joint and mutual will. According to a recent Illinois case, this type of will is presumed to be a contract between the parties which cannot be broken when the first one dies, especially where it involves a husband and wife. Therefore in our example the husband probably cannot leave everything to his new wife.

What if in our hypothetical situation the husband and wife make separate wills leaving everything to each other and then to their child? In that there are separate documents here, can the provisions in the wills be changed by the survivor? Separate wills can also be irrevocable but it is much more difficult to convince a Court of this. According to one Illinois case, there must be evidence showing that the separate wills cannot be revoked, such as a separate contract between the husband and wife or language in the wills themselves showing that the parties intended the documents to be binding.

If the wills are found to be irrevocable and if the surviving spouse in our example makes a new will breaching the original agreement, the child can seek damages for breach of contract or he can seek a Court order forcing the survivors to comply with the terms of the original document.

Chouteau balks at written contract for ambulances

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

A proposed contract with Campbell Ambulance Service was the primary topic of discussion at Monday night's Chouteau Township Board meeting.

After reading the contract to the board, Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks expressed his concern on a portion of the agreement. Whenever Campbell is unable to obtain full payment from township residents who have utilized Campbell's services, the responsibility to pay becomes the township's.

"That's a worse contract than what Granite City handed us," commented Tom Johnson, trustee.

Campbell has had an agreement with Chouteau Township the past two years, but not a written contract. The board, comfortable with the past action, is confused as to why Campbell suddenly wants a signed contract.

"We've only been billed for three (persons), that I know of. I'd like to see some figures. I want to know what kind of figures they are talking about," said Patricia Polley, town clerk. Before committing, Mrs. Polley wants to be aware of just how many residents still might owe Campbell money.

The board will make a final decision pending further negotiations with Campbell.

In a letter from Community Development, the board was informed that the survey results of Lakeview Drive and Rapp Road meet the requirements for Community Development funding. Total allocations from Community Development will amount to $48,176.

Funds are to be used to construct drainage ditches in the two previously discussed areas.

After considering engineering cost estimates from Juneau Associates, the board decided to inquire about other engineering estimates on the two projects. Because of time considerations, Mrs. Polley will contact engineering firms by phone instead of advertising for bids.

In other business, Sparks read a letter from George Miller of the Township officials of Illinois group concerning the Civil Rights bill that is presently in the U.S. Senate. Fearful that the bill will be passed, Miller requested Sparks to write a letter to Senators Charles Percy and Alan Dixon requesting them to either withhold or withdraw from the vote on the bill.

Sparks reported that he had written to the two Senators asking them to vote no and explained that the bill requires an excessive amount of unnecessary paperwork for the townships.

The town board's next meeting is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m. at the township offices, 697 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Heart attack blamed for death after auto crash

A heart attack is being blamed for a fatality following a head-on collision on the viaduct of Route 111 in Ponton Beach Monday afternoon.

According to Ponton Beach Police Officer Merl Hayden, Paul Cato, 60, of 431 S. Sixth St., Caseyville, apparently suffered a coronary at 2 p.m. Monday just as his southbound car reached the top of the viaduct north of Route 162.

Cato's car crossed the center line and struck the northbound car, driven by Margaret Ropac of 193 Esquire Drive, Arlington Heights.

Upon arriving on the scene, Hayden noted mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, while Don Schrage, an EMT with the Edwardsville Fire Department who was passing at the time, stopped and administered cardio-pulmonary resuscitation in unsuccessful attempts to revive Mr. Cato.

Mr. Cato was pronounced dead at 2:26 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The driver of the other car, Mrs. Ropac, was treated at SEMC and released.

VENICE WOMAN SIGNS BATTERY COMPLAINT

The mother of a 16-year-old boy signed a battery complaint against Venice man at 6 p.m. Monday, after the man allegedly hit the youth on the right shoulder and then slapped him on the left side of the face.

The incident occurred in front of 153 Lee Wright Homes. The man and the youth were talking before the alleged battery took place.

Classes and workshops

THE THIRD IN A SIX-WEEK SERIES of Scripture classes will be conducted at 7 p.m. today, Oct. 4, at the St. Elizabeth Church cafeteria by St. Louis University Professor Irvin Atkin. He will speak on "What is the Message of the Parables?" The classes are conducted each Thursday through Oct. 25. Cost is $1 per class.

THE TRI-CITY YMCA is offering a scuba diving class on Sunday evenings, Oct. 7 through Nov. 18, from 4 to 10 p.m. Individuals 15 years or older can receive full certification upon completion of the class. Children 12 to 14 can receive junior certification and 11-year-olds can gain skin diver certification. Three hours will be devoted to classroom time and three hours will be spent in the pool. Participants need to supply suits, towels, notebooks, masks, fins and snorkels. YMCA members will pay $65, while non-members will pay $75.

ST. ELIZABETH MEDICAL CENTER is offering a baby-sitting clinic from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Oct. 6, in Pascal Hall to anyone 12 years of age or older. Topics include selecting a baby-sitter, job responsibilities, child care and safety, entertaining the child, first aid, poison control, fire safety and answering the telephone. Cost of the clinic is $5. Certificates will be awarded upon completion of the clinic. Enrollment will be limited to 50 participants. For more information and to register for the clinic, interested persons may call SEMC at 798-3256.

THE FAMILY COUNSELING CENTER, 5109 N. Illinois St., Belleville, is sponsoring a six-hour, three-session workshop to provide participants with knowledge about stress and practical means to deal with it. The first session, "The Mind-Body Connection," is scheduled for 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, Oct. 6. The next two sessions are scheduled for 10 a.m. to noon Oct. 13 and 20. Cost is $30 for the entire workshop, and a maximum of 10 persons will be allowed to participate. Pre-enrollment is necessary.

Dinners

THE PONTON BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT and Ponton Beach Senior Citizens will sponsor a barbecue from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at the Senior Citizens Center, 3910 Highway 111. Plates consisting of pork steaks, potato salad and slaw cost $3. Sandwiches with potato chips and pickles cost $2.

THE COLLINSVILLE SWEET ADELINES will be sponsoring a dinner show "Take Us to Vegas" at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at the Cottonwood Banquet Center, upper level of the Cottonwood Mall in Glen Carbon. Ticket information is available by calling 1-656-4646, 1-397-6231, 345-8974 or 931-1409. Cost of the dinner and show is $12 for adults and $9 for children. The show begins at 8 p.m. Tickets for the show only are $5 for adults and $3 for children.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH in Madison will host a ham and bean dinner, featuring a flea market, bake sale and rummage sale, beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at the intersection of Third Street and Ewing Avenue. The dinner cost is $2.50 per person.

THE MADISON LIONS CLUB will host a fish fry from 4 to 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5, at the Madison Lions Home, 910 Madison Ave. Plate dinners will include Icelandic white fish, macaroni and cheese and cole slaw for $3 per plate. Carryouts will be available.

Other events

BELLEVILLE AREA COLLEGE'S Divorce Support Group will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. today, Oct. 4, in the college's Garden Room, located off the cafeteria at the northeast corner of 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville. Judge Richard Goldenhersh of St. Clair County will speak to the group about family law. There is no charge for attendance, but reservations may be made by calling 1-235-2700, extension 368.

NAMEOKI GRADE SCHOOL GRADUATES, class of 1950, will have their first reunion at 9 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, at the KOA Campgrounds at Route 3 and West Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell.

THE LONG LAKE FIRE DEPARTMENT will host an open house from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, in observance of Fire Prevention Week. Equipment will be displayed and demonstrated at the station, 4115 Ponton Road. Smoke the Bear will make an appearance and gifts will be distributed to all children attending. Group tours may be arranged by calling 931-2655.

TRAFFIC STOP RESULTS

IN WARRANT SERVED
Stopped during the weekend for an alleged traffic violation in the 1500 block of Johnson Road, Joe V. Fortner, 30, of 1872 Poplar St., was found to be wanted on an active warrant issued through Randolph County, Ill., alleging failure to appear in court on a non-support charge.

Fortner also was charged with driving while his license was suspended and disobeying a traffic control device.

In a court appearance at 2:10 p.m. Monday, Fortner pleaded guilty to the traffic charges and was fined $250. He was returned to jail and released to a deputy from the Randolph County Sheriff's Department at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Seedling sale now under way

The Conservation Department now is accepting orders for its annual tree and shrub seedling sale, according to Al Mickelson, Division of Forest Resources and Natural Heritage chief.

The sale will be delivered in the spring from DOC's Mason County and Union County nurseries, and may be used for conservation plantings to preserve wildlife habitat, soil erosion control, to create windbreaks or to grow forest products, Mickelson pointed out. By law, stock from state nurseries may not be used for landscaping or ornamental purposes, or as shade trees, he noted.

"People who want free stock for such purposes should contact their local commercial nurseries," he said.

Mickelson said the seedlings will be small and will be shipped in packages of approximately 250 plants. For most species, the price is $17.50 for 250 seedlings. Special wildlife and windbreak packages of mixed species also are available.

"We process about 4,000 orders and need several million seedlings annually, so people who want trees should order early," Mickelson said. Price lists and order forms, as well as technical assistance, can be obtained through local conservation and agriculture offices or by writing to the Department of Conservation, Division of Forest Resources and Natural Heritage, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

St. Elizabeth Parish hosts fish fry, dance

St. Elizabeth Parish, Ponton and Johnson roads, will host a First Friday fish fry from 4:30 to 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5.

The menu includes a choice of cod fillet or jack salmon, applesauce or slaw, french fries and a drink. Adult plates cost $3.50, while children's plates are $2. Sandwiches cost $1.75, and carryouts are available.

In addition, the parish has scheduled its Fall Dance for 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday, Oct. 6. Beer, snacks and set-ups will be provided, as will music by The Good Times. Tickets at $8 per couple will be available at the door.

OPEN MON-WED FRI 9-9 TUES THURS SAT 9-5

Traditionally the month of October is known to be a slow month in the Used Car business, but we here at American Auto Sales would like to set a record for number of cars sold in a month at our dealership.

Listed below is a group of cars priced below "NADA" suggested retail prices. We feel if you can keep the prices down we can get our volume up. Stop in and check out the cars and prices. If you feel we are still high, make us a firm offer and you may just drive away one of our clean dependable used cars or trucks.

Remember we still have financing available if you qualify.

THIS WEEK'S SPECIALS

Tougher penalties will follow tax amnesty

Taxpayers with a guilty conscience—or with overdue tax bills—now have the opportunity to apply for state tax amnesty. Illinois Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson is inviting them to call 1-800-BACK TAX.

A two-month amnesty period, Oct. 1 through Nov. 30, was created by a new law.

A total of 200,000 letters will be sent to eligible taxpayers.

"Persons that our records show as owing delinquent taxes can expect to receive these letters this month," Johnson said. "The first 37,000 letters will be to individuals previously notified that they owe state income taxes."

"Letters to businesses, which owe income, sales or other taxes will be mailed in the coming weeks."

"Those who have overdue tax returns are also encouraged to apply."

Under the terms of amnesty, individuals and firms that step forward and pay the taxes owed will save themselves the penalty charges and half the interest which otherwise would have been due.

Also, persons or businesses violating Illinois tax laws will receive the guarantee that the state will not initiate criminal prosecution for those violations.

Johnson noted that toll-free telephone lines have been installed for use by Illinois residents. The phone number, 1-800-BACK TAX, will be open for business from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Information and assistance also will be available from any of the 14 local revenue offices or four out-of-state offices. The Fairview Heights office is at the Southern Illinois Bank, 144 at Rt. 159, telephone 397-9200. Johnson urged eligible persons to take advantage of "this one-time-only opportunity."

The state revenue director also reminded taxpayers that the amnesty legislation and other measures newly signed into law substantially increase the enforcement abilities of the department and toughen the penalties for those who evade taxes.

"What this means," Johnson said, "is that your chances of getting caught are greater than ever. And the punishment when you do get caught will be much harsher. After Nov. 30, there's no chance for amnesty."

The increased penalties, which become effective Dec. 1, include making the failure to file an Illinois income tax return a felony, punishable by up to five years in state prison and fines of up to $10,000.

Other enforcement measures newly authorized include the ability to speed up seizure of property from delinquent taxpayers, the ability to turn over names of delinquent taxpayers to state licensing agencies with the recommendation that any professional or trade licenses be suspended or revoked, and the authority to crack down on itinerant merchants.

In addition, new computer tape match programs will be initiated.

"Amnesty, along with these new enforcement tools, will assure that we maximize our tax collections from our current tax base, and it is a service to honest taxpayers," Johnson said.

"As an example, it's unfair to honest firms for a less honest businessman to gain a competitive advantage by pocketing the sales tax and reducing his prices. The honest taxpayer must obtain his profit from his after-tax income."

"To obtain amnesty, persons or businesses must file an application for amnesty and complete any necessary tax returns," Johnson said. "In addition, they must pay the taxes due, plus half of the interest."

Any person or business owing taxes to the Illinois Department of Revenue from tax periods prior to July 1, 1983, is eligible for amnesty.

All state taxes collected by the department are affected, including personal and corporate income taxes, sales taxes, motor fuel, liquor, cigarette, hotel-motel, bingo and other miscellaneous taxes.

Not included are taxes collected by other Illinois agencies, including the insurance tax, corporate franchise tax, and unemployment taxes. Persons currently under criminal investigation for state tax violations are not eligible for amnesty.

Anyone with a civil case pending in a state court is ineligible unless that case is resolved before the amnesty ends.

Dave's Movies and More: a success story

At a time when many businesses are finding it hard to make ends meet, at least one business in Granite City is growing, and growing rapidly.

In just over a year since it opened, Dave's Movies and More has more than doubled, both in size and in the products it offers.

Recently, the business moved from a 1,000-square-foot store in the former Biederman furniture store building at 3675 Nameoki Road to a 2,000-square-foot area at the back of the same building, formerly Nash's Lounge.

The number of video-recorded movies offered for rental also has grown rapidly, from about 400 movies when the owner David Wolf first opened the old store to nearly 2,500 movies now. That number also continues to grow almost daily.

Wolf says he gets movies from all over the country from several distributors. "We get the films on the date of release, which means you can't get them any faster in California or anywhere. The day they are released, we get them," he commented.

Sometimes, that can cause a problem. "We had a couple of movies, such as Tender Mercies, before the theaters around here had them. That meant we had the movies before the publicity on them started and no one knew what they were," he said.

Other movies take longer before they are released in video tape. It is a negotiated agreement between the movie producers and the tape industry when a movie will be released to the videotape industry.

What is the secret to a business which is growing at a time when the economy is sluggish? Wolf answers, "I take no money out of the business. I reinvest every penny into more movies and more equipment for sale. I want the business to improve and grow."

In addition to offering movies for rental, Movies and More sells big screen and regular television sets, video recorders, cameras and accessories, including special effects generators. "Our slogan is 'Everything to do with VHS,' which is the primary type of videotape equipment used in this region," Wolf says.

He noted that in some parts of the country, the Betamax video recorders are the most common, but in the St. Louis region, VHS enjoys far greater popularity, partially because there is more recording time on VHS tapes.

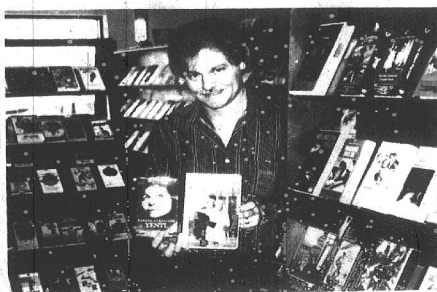

"Finding software for the Beta is the big thing. You have to go to St. Louis or Fairview Heights to rent movies. I strongly considered putting in a Beta library here, but there are not enough people with Betas locally to support the library," Wolf said.

What is in the future? Wolf says he hopes his store will just keep on growing and gaining popularity. He also may open other stores in other cities, he notes.

SMOTHERS' ART WORK IN OZARK FESTIVAL

Artist Larry Smothers of Granite City will be one of more than 70 artists and craftsmen featured at the Fifth Annual Lake of the Ozarks Fine Arts and Crafts Festival, held annually to benefit the Lake of the Ozarks Developmental Center. It draws exhibitors from several states.

This year's festival will be at the Fort Frontier Land Amusement Park in Osage Beach, Mo. on Oct. 6 and 7 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is free.

LATEST MOVIES at Dave's Movies and More are displayed by owner Dave Wolf, holding Barbara Streisand's "Yentl" and the movie "Splash."

New double-digit millionaire possible

No lottery player matched the six winning numbers in the latest Illinois lotto drawing, and officials quickly offered $15 million to a single winner this Saturday.

"Ever since Michael Wittkowski won $40 million in lotto last month, interest in the game has been higher than ever," said Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent.

"As a result of this heightened interest, sales have been higher than normal and it took only one rollover for the single-winner grand prize to reach $15 million."

"During the weeks preceding the $40 million grand prize, it took two rollovers before the single-winner grand prize reached $15 million."

There were 688 people who matched five of the six winning numbers, and they will each receive $1,627.

In addition, 38,343 matched four of the six winning numbers and will receive $44 apiece.

Jones added that if sales pass the expected $13.2 million this week, the single winner grand prize could be raised again.

The most recent winning numbers were 08, 09, 12, 18, 20 and 39.
